Tax base is up $7 million

By BILL WINTER

Real estate assessments—which form the base that supports the principal local tax structure—are up $7,134,613 or two percent in the Quad-City area's four townships.

The base for the 1983 tax year (1984 collection) is considered final unless Illinois balks at granting the expected 1.0 Madison County multiplier. If that happened, the county would try to make further adjustments in township multipliers to conform to the state's wishes.

A HEARING is to be held at 10 a.m. Thursday, June 28, at the County Courthouse in Edwardsville on the still-tentative multipliers.

Figures announced by county officials Friday confirm the projected multipliers disclosed by the Press-Record June 4 for Venice Township (1.0211) and Chouteau (1.0294).

The Madison County Board of Review this month nudged Granite City and Nameoki Township multipliers even higher than it had estimated, to 1.0490 (GC) and 1.0390 (Nameoki). The June 4 projections had been 1.0843 and 1.0278.

COMPARED to the four-township real estate value of $390,758,370 a year ago, the grand total now rises to $367,892,983. It consists of:

—Granite City $219,694,608 ($216,071,910 a year ago)

—Nameoki $67,877,030 ($64,324,520)

—Chouteau $41,636,952 ($41,965,490)

—Venice Township (Venice-Madison area) $38,684,393 ($38,396,510)

AS THESE comparisons show, the $7 million Quad-City tax base growth represents increases of about 3½% in Granite City and another 3½% in Nameoki, with a small increase in Venice Township and a small decrease in the Mitchell (Chouteau) area.

Individual property valuations for families and companies may vary, but collectively these are the patterns.

Now that the base is virtually final, the focus of computations will be directed toward determination of new tax rates and preparation and mailing of tax bills.

1st GC mayor candidate announces

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

An estimated 350 persons sweltered in temperatures of about 100 degrees Thursday night inside the Washington Theater to hear Granite City Tax Assessor Von Dee Cruse announce that he will be a candidate for mayor in 1985.

Air conditioning failure inside the theater combined with temperatures in the 90s outside to dampen the brows of those who attended "Von Dee Cruse's Happening," but Cruse said it didn't dampen his enthusiasm. "I was really impressed. There were not a lot of 'political people.' Most were the middle-of-the-block type who are looking for a change," Cruse told the Press-Record after the event.

DURING HIS TALK, Cruse told the gathering the decision to run for mayor "is probably the most important in my political life, but I assure you it was not the most difficult."

Cruse, who has served two terms as an alderman and five terms as assessor, a total of 28 years, said "I have an obligation to myself and to the people of our community for their faith and trust in me through the years. This is why I say my decision was not very difficult to make."

He added, "I believe the time calls for reaffirmation of faith and purpose and the vigor of new leadership for the people of Granite City. Government sets the tempo of a town. The mayor sets the tempo of government. Since government is the only agency that represents all of the people, quality leadership in city hall must be our town's first concern.

"Leadership that will prevent decay...that proves by its actions that its cause is just, its motives pure, leadership that has proven itself by honorable performances and dedication to duty in the past and...that attracts others to contribute their talents to the overcoming of community obstacles. This characterizes unity and goodwill among people."

SAYING THAT it is time to recognize "a turning point in city government," Cruse said, "Together, we must chart a different course. It is never more important for our mayor to possess such a vision than at a time like the present—when the winds of change are freshening, when older methods and ideas are falling away, and when the city is waiting for a new departure."

Adding that he has proven in his 20 years as tax assessor that he has the "political courage to hold office," Cruse concluded, "As of now, I commit myself to you and the people of Granite City as a candidate for mayor in April 1985."

Cruse's talk was followed by a presentation of slides and music showing the region, the city and Cruse at work and with his family.

Hit-N-Run denial is recommended

The Granite City Plan Commission recommended Thursday that zoning be denied to David Roth, who planned to construct a Hit-N-Run Store at the corner of 29th Street and Madison Avenue.

Members of the commission voted against the zoning based on the city's zoning ordinance which requires properties in the C-4 (central business commercial) classification to consist of at least five acres of land. The property in question is less than an acre.

IT IS NOW UP to the Granite City Council to act on the Plan Commission's recommendation.

The petition for the rezoning was filed from the last meeting because of a legal problem concerning the notification of surrounding residents and because of a request by the commission that the city council hire the services of a zoning planner to clear up inconsistencies in the zoning ordinance.

Roth had planned to run the store 24 hours a day and to sell package liquor from the establishment. Roth's attorney, Allen Walker, said that, although there currently are no liquor licenses available in the city, Roth would actively seek a license.

WALKER SAID that the store's hours also might change, depending on economic factors.

Several residents protested the store's construction due to the heavy traffic conditions already present at that intersection. Other residents said they were afraid of the element the store would draw if it were to sell liquor.

During the discussion surrounding the Roth zoning, commission members expressed displeasure with the city council's failure to act on their request to acquire the services of a zoning planner.

ACCORDING TO Dave Morgan, chairman of the commission, many persons are requesting a C-4 or C-5 zoning classification, but do not have the acreage required to meet the re-

23-year-old dies in accident

Rick Eric Jones, 23, a former Granite City resident, died Saturday in a Peoria hospital after suffering injuries in a single-car accident.

Mr. Jones, who was a passenger in the auto, died at 8:45 p.m. on Saturday, at St. Francis Hospital.

The driver of the car, Cyle D. Forney, 21, of Minonk, Ill., also was fatally injured and was pronounced dead on the scene by Woodford County Coroner Robert Mason. An inquest will be scheduled. Another passenger, Robert A. Lancett, 28, of Bloomington, Ill., was released from Eureka Hospital after being treated for bruises there.

According to the Illinois State Police, Mr. Forney's car was eastbound on Interstate 74 three miles east of Goodfield, Ill., when it left the roadway, went into the median, came back out of the median and then rolled over several times. Police officials said that Mr. Forney apparently lost control of the vehicle.

Peoria County Coroner Lynn Whals said there will be an inquest into Mr. Jones' death.

Additional details are given in today's obituary column.

Tony Farrow never realized that his hobby of collecting patches from various police departments would someday bring him to America. Farrow, 26, of Surrey County, England, an investigator for a government agency similar to the Federal Bureau of Investigation here, first wrote to Madison Police Chief Don Bridick more than three years ago. "I picked the city of Madison off a map and I sent a letter requesting that the chief send me a police patch," he said. "As it turned out, he (Chief Bridick) collects patches too and we started writing to each other."

FARROW SAID HE has written many other police departments in the United States, but does not correspond regularly with any other chief. "We (he and Bridick) write to each other at least once a month," he said.

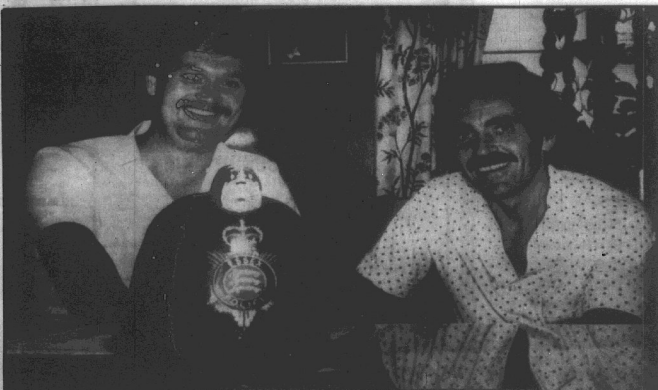

Farrow said when he arrived at the St. Louis airport earlier this month, the two policemen had no trouble finding each other. "I mailed Donnie a picture of myself and he spotted me right away," he said.

Immediately after Farrow's arrival, Bridick took him to Charlie's Restaurant to get a bite to eat. "I told him that my house is his house and that if he doesn't like anything or needs anything, let me know," said Bridick. "And things have worked out fine. I really enjoy his company."

APA shelter to open Saturday

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

What started as a remote dream more than a decade ago in the minds of several local residents, concerned about pets and their well-being, turned out to be far-sighted vision as the concept becomes a reality this week with the opening of a new animal shelter in Granite City.

The Association for Protection of Animals (APA) will open its shelter doors to the public at a ribbon-cutting ceremony, beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday, June 23.

THE NEW SHELTER is constructed on a half-acre of land located in the 5000 block of Old Alton Road, just north of the Granite City limits.

Area dignitaries have been invited to participate in the opening day festivities, which will continue until 4 p.m. Saturday.

Special invitations have been issued to Chouteau Township officials, who have greatly assisted the APA's efforts to make the shelter a functional entity for the past two years.

TOURS OF THE facility also will be available from 1 until 4 p.m. Sunday, June 24.

Several of those responsible for establishing the humane shelter still remain active in the organization today, including Connie Becerra

Pontoon cuts funding for utility bills, benefits for dependents

By SUSAN SIGNAIG-WEICH
of the Press-Record

Members of the Pontoon Beach Village Board of Trustees approved motions last week to delete two items from this year's village budget. One of the items cut is funding that pays for the utility bills at the senior citizens' center.

President of the Board Paul Bennett said that the board told the senior citizens all along that they would not always be able to help with the utility costs. "We told them we would help get them started, but that we wouldn't always be able to pay these bills," said Bennett. A representative of the seniors said he understands the board's position on the subject and that the seniors will pay the bills, "somehow."

Bennett told them that if they needed any assistance in the future, the board will do its best to help them.

Also cut from the budget is life insurance coverage for the dependents of village employees and health benefits for the spouse of a police dispatcher.

Village Clerk Mary Warren told the board that these items had been on last year's budget, but that last year was the first time such coverage had been provided by the village.

Bennett said these life and health benefits were costing the village more than $700 a year. He said the mix-up in coverage occurred due to the village changing life insurance companies. "I think someone said at the time we changed to Prudential (Insurance Co.) that these benefits had been under the old policy, but we learned later that they weren't," he said.

Bennett said on health insurance alone, the city could save $139 per employee. "It costs $87 to cover an employee, but it costs $216 to cover an employee and his wife," he said.

The board voted to inform the insurance company of the change. She said the village will apply for funding to build a ramp to the basement in the village hall for the handicapped. She said any additional funds may be used to purchase a van for the senior citizens to use on outings.

Board Trustee Donald C. Rea told the board that he feels the village should delay buying a van until the village learns whether or not it can get a used van from Nameoki Township.

Rea said that Nameoki recently obtained a new van and that Pontoon Beach may be able to acquire the old van. "I understand that the old van went into a fund, on paper, and that there may be a chance that we could get it," he said. "The supervisor here (Harry Briggs) said this is not a dead issue and that there is a likelihood we may still get the van."

Mrs. Warren also told the board that the village will apply to use left over Community Development money to acquire professional services to draw up a master zoning plan for the village.

She said she already consulted with one such service and that they required a fee of $14,400. She said the village money from last year totaled $21,000.

Bennett said he understands that if the village does not have a master zoning plan, the nearest town which has such a plan can supercede all zoning decisions. "This means that Granite City would be able to tell us who could and could not annex into the village," he warned.

The deadline for submitting Community Development applications is Friday, June 22.

Also at the meeting, the board agreed to raise the tonnage limit on roads from three to five tons. Bennett said this will put the village in compliance with other tonnage limits in surrounding townships. Bennett said there have been some complaints about overweight trucks in the village, but added that the board has not been able to take action on the violations, however, because they do not have the weight signs posted.

Trustee Rea made a motion that the village purchase five-ton weight limit signs and that they be posted.

The 101 things that volunteers do at St. Elizabeth Medical Center leave the medical center staff free to use their skills and perform their duties better and quicker, and allows the staff the time to work with their patients.

In appreciation of all the hours the volunteers put in yearly, SEMC honored these men and women, ranging in age from 18 to 90, at a recent volunteer dinner.

More than 48,000 hours were accumulated in 1993 by the SEMC volunteers, some of whom have volunteered at the medical center for more than 30 years. These volunteers supplement the paid staff by doing things the staff might never get around to doing or things which might be put off because of lack of time. Volunteers man the information desks, act as go-betweens in the surgery area between doctors and families, deliver patient mail, pour water for the patient, run errands, transport patients, feed patients and act as escorts within the building.

In 1983, two members of the St. Elizabeth Medical Center Volunteer Services accomplished something that has never been done before in the history of the medical center. Mary Kristian and Helen Bergfield were made honorary SEMC associates after having accumulated a combined life-time total of more than 26,000 hours of volunteer work.

Since their hours equal those of a 10-year employee, Mrs. Kristian and Mrs. Bergfield each received a SEMC 10-year associate pin.

"This is something both ladies can be very proud of," Sister Mary Thomas, SEMC president, said. "It is the type of dedication which makes our volunteer program such an important part of the medical center's daily routine."

Honored for more than 1,000 hours of volunteer service were Orville Kahn, Jay Kahn, Pat Konzen, Frances Williams, Darlene Busch, Juanita Rosenberg, Linda Walker, Marion Willard, Jeanne Beatty, Nanette Boyer, Amelia Chomko, Sylvia Kostitzky, Mary Parker, Ruth Squires, Lou Cable, Murrell Harmon, Dee Klesh and Ernie Rouland. Honored for more than 1,500 hours

Librarian is honored for 25 year service

The Granite City Public Library Board of Trustees adopted a resolution at its monthly meeting honoring Lucille Georgeff, who retired May 31, 1994, after 25 years of service to the library.

The resolution says that Miss Georgeff "has given unselfishly of her time in carrying out the obligations of her position, thereby contributing to the success of the Granite City Public Library." It also commends her "for her contributions to the library and through it to the people of Granite City."

The board also wished Miss Georgeff a long and happy future and offered to hold a retirement party, but she declined.

The resolution honoring Miss Georgeff will be placed in her personnel file.

Martins to sue Pontoon over liquor license dispute

By SUSAN SIGNAIG-WEICH
of the Press-Record

Ron and Mary Martin told the Press-Record last week that they intend to sue the village of Pontoon Beach for discriminating against them by refusing to issue them a liquor license.

The statement came after President of the Village Board Paul Bennett told the Martins that they will not be given a liquor license application because there are no licenses available.

MRS. MARTIN said that she has been applying or attempting to apply for a license the past three years. She says she calls the village hall concerning the matter every three months.

"Everytime I ask about it, they tell me there are no liquor licenses available," said Mrs. Martin, "but I know that there have been six licenses issued in the past three years."

She says that establishments that have been issued licenses since she first applied include The Skip Inn, a Hit-N-Run store, Soccer For Fun and Nelson's Sporting Goods Complex.

THE MARTINS SAY they know of no reason why the board has been denying their license. Both say they have talked to several trustees concerning the matter. "It seems like they stick together on these licenses," said Martin. "If one of them doesn't want to have the license, none of them wants you to have the license."

Bennett, who is the liquor commissioner in Pontoon Beach, admits that there have been liquor licenses issued since the Martins first applied. "But all of these permits required the village board to amend the liquor ordinance in the village," he said. "None of the licenses have been issued because of an establishment closing down, making a license opening."

Bennett said the liquor ordinance currently allows 10 licenses to be issued. He said it is up to the board to amend the ordinance to allow more permits to be issued.

THE VILLAGE president told the Martins at the meeting that he will not give them an application at this time because it will only be refused. He said he feels it is useless to issue an application if there are no license openings.

Bennett says that refused applications are placed in a file, but if an opening occurs, he does not necessarily go back to the file when making a decision on to whom to give the license.

He admits it is within the constitutional rights for the Martins to apply for a license, but that a license is a "privileged thing" and that license holders have "all kinds of state laws and regulations" to follow.

THE REASONS THE Martins have been denied the license in the past are not for public knowledge," Bennett said. "I don't think I should say anymore on the subject. If they are going to sue the village, it might be used in litigation."

First Granite City Savings observes 90th year of operation

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

Following 90 years of technological changes and an expansion of services, First Granite City Savings President and Chairman of the Board Fred Williams says the savings institution is going back to the basics.

"We plan to make things more personal," Williams says. "We feel all this automated teller stuff makes everybody feel like a number. The customer feels like just a cog in a wheel."

First Granite City Savings is celebrating its 90-year history this year, but Williams, who has been with the institution 51 years, is keeping an eye on the future. And that means following the personalized trend being set in the banking industry.

A lot of companies through the years have moved their officers into the public lobby areas instead of putting them behind closed doors," he says. "We feel people like to talk to a person instead of a machine. It's a trend that a lot of savings and loan and banking institutions feel is necessary to get away from the numbers."

That doesn't mean that First Granite City Savings will be falling behind in technology. "We're putting in new terminals which are hooked up to a computer to facilitate our customers," Williams states.

First Granite City Savings was incorporated Sept. 28, 1894, with offices in the Granite City Trust Building at 19th Street and Edison Avenue. Two employees were all that were needed to run the young operation, Williams says.

The company moved in the early 1930s to 1908 Delmar Avenue and then moved again in 1943 to its current location at 1825 Delmar Avenue. In 1956, the building was remodeled and an adjacent building was added to the property. Another remodeling project came in 1969, when the drive-in windows were added to the building. The branch office at 1529 Johnson Road was built and opened in 1974.

The savings institution has grown in assets from a reported $250,000 in 1943 to its current $45 million today. Fifteen employees run the operation.

The institution has obviously prospered during its 90 years, but there have been setbacks.

"The big thing in Granite City," according to Williams, "is we went all the way through the Great Depression and through little recessions. We worked with the customer and gradually worked things out. Now we have a five percent net worth (reserves over liability). The insurance corporation figures that's real good."

The business also has been robbed. "Twenty years ago, a holdup man came in at noon and made off with $947. The FBI must have spent $2 million trying to find this guy and never did," Williams says. "Now we have security off-duty police and security devices."

Williams speaks of the savings company from experience. He began as a male clerk with the institution when he was a sophomore in high school. After graduation, he worked part-time while attending Washington University in St. Louis, earning a bachelor of science degree in chemistry.

But Williams stayed with the company, pursuing other training in accounting and business administration. "I had what was actually a temporary job, and it lasted 51 years," he says.

Williams, who will turn 70 years old next month, says he has seen the savings and loan industry go through numerous changes. "The biggest thing is the many different services financial institutions now perform. Under the deregulation act, companies can move into many different fields, including stock brokerage, insurance, real estate and checking accounts."

And Williams has seen the birth of the computer age. "Just about all our operations are on computers, which speeds up operations. We'd never be able to handle everything with just pen and ink anymore."

Williams says he likes the convenience of computer technology, but he emphasizes the personal touch that no computer can ever replace. "Our tellers are important as representatives of the institution. We have a training program to teach them how to better communicate with the customer and to keep them up-to-date on our offerings, what the company is doing and where it is going."

"Our employees are all spokesmen for the company," he says.

Dismantling 'old' powerhouse near Venice McKinley Bridge

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

A Belleville contractor is negotiating with the Venice City Council to purchase part of the former streetcar trestle which parallels the eastern approach to the McKinley Bridge near where he is dismantling the old Venice powerhouse.

J.A. Johnson of Heavy Industrial Machinery Co., Belleville, briefly addressed the aldermen at last week's city council session, explaining that he was making the request to facilitate the removal of machinery and scrap iron from the Venice powerhouse. He plans to take down part of the trestle, it was indicated.

Johnson said he hoped "to work something out with the city, either to buy the trestle or just see if we can get together on it."

He was referred to Third Ward Alderman John Ervin, chairman of the council's Streets and Alleys Committee, who offered to meet with Johnson after the meeting to get additional information.

A Union Electric spokesman said Wednesday the powerhouse structure being dismantled has not been in operation for the past 13 years.

"It is the old Venice powerhouse that was built in 1923 and formerly belonged to the Illinois Traction Co., which operated the streetcars some years ago," the spokesman advised.

The utility spokesman also said the firm's operating power plant at Venice is on a standby basis at the present time.

In other business, First Ward Alderman John Fleig complimented

the Venice Street Department, which has started grading work.

"The alleys are beginning to look good," the council member said.

Fourth Ward Alderman Victor Valentine Sr. asked if some work can be done of the road-ally adjacent to Lee Park and near the city hall, noting that "the whole road is in bad shape."

Street Superintendent Tom Scaturro said an effort will be made to grade, rock, seal and blacktop in the alley.

It was noted, however, should the alley be improved to a much smoother surface, it may encourage drivers to travel faster and endanger children going to and from the park.

Mayor Echols reported nothing new from South-Western Cable TV since he was told the firm is strand mapping the community and talking with utility companies in reference to pole usage in preparation for installing cable television in Venice.

Alderman Valentine also asked if some of the street lights on the Missouri end of the McKinley Bridge are malfunctioning, noting a section was "pitch dark" from the end of the superstructure to the west.

Bridge Manager Tom Fields said several lights were repaired last week, but they apparently went out again almost immediately. He said a survey will be made and that damaged lights shortly will be replaced.

Fields reported a total of 458,247 vehicles used the McKinley Bridge in May, showing a daily average of 14,782 vehicles and a small decrease, in figures compared to last May.

Fields said Wednesday that bridge revenue for last month is up a little from a year ago, indicating that vehicular traffic has not decreased and the method of recording the number of vehicles accounts for the difference.

Commodities to be distributed

Officials in Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice townships and the Salvation Army in Granite City have announced that they will give out surplus government commodities this week.

Commodities will include: processed cheese, cheddar cheese, butter, dry milk, honey, cornmeal and flour. The honey, cornmeal, dry milk and flour are in short supply and persons will be asked to take their choice of one. All products will be given out on a first-come, first-served basis.

To be eligible to receive commodities, persons must be residents of the township where they are getting the cheese, they must be the head of a household or the spouse, have their Social Security number and sign an affidavit that their total household income is within the correct guidelines. Persons also should bring some proof of residency other than a driver's license. An unpaid utility bill or a voter's registration card are adequate.

Income guidelines are as follows: one person, $488; two persons, $648; three persons, $808; four persons, $968; 5 persons, $1,128; 6 persons, $1,288; 7 persons, $1,448; 8 persons, $1,608 and $1,768 for each additional member of the household.

Chouteau Township will begin distribution at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at the Chouteau Township Social Center, 697a N. Thorngate Drive, Mitchell (behind the Midwest Motel). Officials stress that the doors will not be opened until 9:30, so that they can get the program set up properly.

Venice Township will give out commodities at 9 a.m. Thursday, June 21, at Englebert Hall, 10th Street and Washington Avenue, Madison. Township officials advise that honey should not be fed to children under 12 months of age.

Officials also advise that persons will not be discriminated against on the basis of race, color, sex, creed or national origin.

The Salvation Army, 3007 E. 23rd St., will begin distribution of commodities to Granite City Township residents at 9 a.m. Thursday, June 21. A representative for the Salvation Army said commodities will not be distributed if there is inclement weather.

Laying out the welcome mat

While on a case-by-case basis, there are good reasons for denying some new businesses from opening in Granite City, we feel the city should be careful in trying not to drive business away.

An example is the proposed Hi-N-Run store at 29th Street and Madison Avenue. It appears the zoning requested will be turned down and the store won't open. The facts are simple. The property does not have the required five acres and the neighborhood is primarily residential and the residents don't want it to become commercial. The request will, in all probability, be turned down by the city council.

That's not all bad. There are good reasons for discouraging businesses in certain areas, but the city should be following up by helping the businesses find a suitable location elsewhere. Instead, Hi-N-Run should be encouraged to open a store here, just not at that specific location. There are a lot of good locations within a short distance.

Years ago, through zoning, the city discouraged

Steak-N-Shake from opening here, as we recall. It went elsewhere. Other businesses have been turned away and we have heard from businessmen who say they would like to come into Granite City, but the zoning problems are too great.

We should have said to Steak-N-Shake, "Welcome! We want you in Granite City! We will work with you to find a suitable location at the right price. We'll help you with financing and possibly tax incentives. We'll do everything we can to get you to build here. We want you!" Had the city done that, tax revenues from Steak-N-Shake could now be flowing through the city coffers.

It wasn't luck that made Fairview Heights flourish. It was the contrast of a welcome mat for businesses there and the lack of such from surrounding communities. In our opinion.

We say welcome Hi-N-Run. Welcome all new businesses. Let's work with them to find suitable locations. Let's not, as a city, drive business away with zoning fights.

Estimate first tax installment

An idea whose time obviously has arrived is the concept of estimated first-installment real estate taxes.

Progress in computerization has enabled many Illinois counties to do this. It greatly speeds the yearly taxing cycle. And accurate taxation is assured by adjustments in the second of the two installments.

Estimates are based on year-ago taxes. The reason why they are helpful is that they do not force the whole collection process into late summer, instead allowing it to proceed in late spring or early summer, as lawmakers visualize it.

There are many reasons why Madison County apparently cannot "get its act together" and bill promptly. Among the reasons are laws that have led to more and more time-consuming assessment objection hearings—hearings that must be conducted before values are final.

Once final, the values trigger a series of clerical tasks that include multipliers, tax rates, individual bills and the collection itself.

Some of the factors that have led to the slow pace ought to be dealt with, but in the meantime we believe there is no valid reason not to estimate the first-half taxes. Of course, it will not happen unless county officials are willing.

As local-level taxing bodies are rubbed raw by the county's glacial speed, their constituents are placed in a similar bind. When agencies cannot utilize money that is due them, they must forego the idea of investing idle funds and instead continue to borrow money.

Each dollar paid in interest comes out of taxpayers' pockets and deprives the same taxpayers of governmental services that the funds otherwise could finance.

Do taxpayers benefit from paying in September instead of June or July? Not really. They can hold onto their money a little longer, but they are heavily penalized in the form of higher taxes caused by their governments' borrowing.

Washington sets a bad example

As indicated in the preceding editorial, this is not the best of times for taxing bodies that must contend with late tax collection and costly borrowing.

It would be easy to climb onto a soapbox and cite the wisdom of balanced budgets, with loans limited to any temporary cash flow difficulties.

It would be simple to condemn borrowing to meet operating expenses, and we do oppose it in principle. Every dollar of interest that must be paid deprives not only taxpayers but also the governmental agencies' staffs and services.

These are easy—and truthful—assertions to make. But they have a bit of a hollow ring to them because of the example being set by Congress and the federal administration. The national debt now exceeds a trillion and a half dollars—and it seems only yesterday that the dreaded trillion mark was passed.

Adding to the debt are annual budget deficits in the range of $150 million to $200 million. With this kind of thing going on in the nation's capital, how can one argue that local officials should adhere to a higher standard of performance and responsibility?

One point to encourage more sensible decision-making in the Quad-City area than in Washington is that there is a difference in authority. The power to print money has not yet been vested at the community level.

And the sermonizing is even easier to voice in such taxing bodies as the Granite City school district, which has not only borrowed a lot of money but, it could be argued, has utilized nearly all of its borrowing power. With no local financial institutions willing to buy any more tax anticipation warrants, as shown by June 11 bidding, the cupboard is mighty close to bare.

Some options remain available even for such severely-bested entities as District Nine. But financiers say that nearly all the creative solutions that could be developed include an imperative—truly balanced budgeting as the cornerstone to debt reduction.

County may help employees buy Reliable Nesco plant

Help for the employees of Reliable Nesco Steel Barrel firm in downtown Granite City is among the items on the agenda for the Madison County Board to consider when it meets at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday in the county courthouse in Edwardsville.

Terms of a proposed employee buyout of Reliable Nesco have not been revealed, but the agenda for the county board shows that the county will be asked to assist the employees in the buyout. The firm has been in hard-pressed times for the last few years, numerous employees have been laid off and the remainder have been working limited hours, the Press-Record has been told.

In other business, the county board is to consider rules and procedures for meeting the Freedom of Information Act, which is effective July 1. The act opens certain records to the public and the press.

A resolution creating an economic development district for Southwestern Illinois also is to be considered as is a resolution modifying the budget and authorizing a contract for an Employment and Training Department for the county.

Modifications to be submitted to the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs in regards to the Commerce and Services Block Grant Program also are to be discussed.

The board is to consider a contract with the Illinois Department of Public Aid regarding the distribution of surplus government commodities to the needy.

A controversy surrounds the hiring and paying of special prosecutors in the county and a resolution authorizing a monthly statement of expenses for the special prosecutors is expected to be acted upon by the board.

The board also will be asked to vote to participate in tax assessment appeals filed by Illinois Power Co. and Consolidated Aluminum Corp. in Madison-Venice.

A request by the sheriff's department to lease a new car and resolutions to advertise for bids for a maintenance contract for all county-owned IBM typewriters and for printing of the annual county school directory also are to be acted upon by the board.

trophies awarded for the best teams. The Granite City High School Bands have assured us that they will again take part in the parade as one band, along with labor organization and fraternal organization bands," Reiske said.

"The Parade Committee hopes that all affiliated labor organizations will take an active part in this year's parade. This year's parade has been designated as 'Day of Solidarity.'" All interested labor groups and participants are being urged to contact Reiske or Kins at 877-4330 or 452-1130.

Planning starts for Labor Day

The Tri-City Trades and Labor Council will again sponsor a Labor Day Parade. The co-chairmen for this year's event will be Trades Council President Edward Reiske, and United Steelworkers of America Local 4804 President David J. Kins.

The co-chairmen predict another successful parade. The parade route will be the same as last year, the float with Edison and Niedringhaus avenues to enable participating groups to utilize the parking lots for the assembly. The parade will proceed on to Niedringhaus Avenue to Madison Avenue, on Madison Avenue to 28th Street, where it will turn left for disassembly in the Wilson Park area.

The Parade Committee has approved the selection of Jim Freeman, director of Region One as this year's grand marshal.

The committee also has invited many elected officials to take part in this year's parade and has approved trophies to be awarded to the float with the best theme, the best marching unit and for the most participation by a Labor Organization. At the conclusion of the parade, there will be a tug-of-war between several labor affiliations and

A week ago it was learned that area banks did not bid on the $1.5 million borrowing endeavor by Granite City School District 9. The endeavor sought the money to temporarily plug the district with its cash flow problem. With that apparent reluctance of any of the banks to aid the district, persons shopping at Crossroads Plaza Friday were asked if they would object receiving and paying their taxes early so the district can meet its financial obligations. Their reactions follow:

Joyce Cole, Granite City

"Yes, I would be in favor of paying early — we have to pay it anyway. And, if it keeps the district from having to borrow more money, I would be in favor of it. However, I would like to know what happened to all the money that was supposed to be saved by closing North High School and the other elementary schools."

Phyllis Pickrel, Granite City

"Yes, I would be in favor of paying my school taxes early. I work for the school district so I may be more familiar than most people with the plight of the district. I also think this district needs to pass a bond issue, but that's hard to do in these times."

D.J. Meyers, Granite City

"Yes, I'd be in favor of receiving an early tax bill, especially if it would help the kids out. However, I think if early bills are sent out, the due date should not be moved up according to 'I'm saying send the bills out. Those people who can afford to pay the bills early can do so, but those people who can't pay early won't be hurt then. Hopefully, there will be enough people who pay early to help solve the district's problem."

Linda Hurry, Granite City

"I've got three kids in the district, so no, I wouldn't mind paying the taxes early. There are many people who budget their money so they are able to pay the taxes when they're due. I guess I'm saying if they are sent out early, people shouldn't be penalized if they can't pay them early."

Organizing committee calls for probe

By ED GURNEY

The decision by a special prosecutor to appeal the dismissal of charges against State's Attorney Don Weber has prompted the Organizing Committee for Eastern Madison County to call for an investigation of the judiciary in Madison County.

"We think the time has come for the taxpayers to get some answers," Organizing Committee President Harry Renkin said last week. "We've been sitting quietly by while the investigation (of Weber) was going on in the county."

THERE HAVE BEEN "too many crazy decisions" to be coincidental, committee member Alan Libbra said.

The committee distributed a list of 10 questions relating to the Weber case and the investigation of county Supervisor of Assessments James Barton. The committee has complained about assessment practices and has been an opponent of Barton. Weber has investigated Barton.

Libbra said every time an investigative body has gotten close to Barton, "funny things start to happen."

BARTON HAD been charged in 1982 with bribery and official misconduct, but the charges were dismissed by Madison County Associate Judge Ed Ferguson. The appellate court ruled earlier this year that Ferguson should not have dismissed the charges.

Why Ferguson dismissed the charges rather than take one of several other options was one of the questions on the committee's list. Libbra said Madison County Chief Circuit Judge Andy Mateosian will be asked to meet with the group and answer questions about the Weber case.

Mateosian will be asked to order an investigation of the judiciary, Libbra said. If Mateosian refuses, the group will go elsewhere to seek an investigation, he added.

MATEOSIAN SAID he could not comment on the call for an investigation.

"I have grave doubts on the propriety of meeting with them and discussing the issues they want to discuss," Mateosian said.

He said ethics laws prohibit him from discussing pending cases. He said he would talk to a representative of the group and find out exactly what its members want to know before he decides whether he will meet with the group.

One of the other questions the group wants answered by Mateosian is why special prosecutor Paul Verticchio decided to appeal Circuit Judge Howard White's decision to dismiss official misconduct charges against Weber. Verticchio had agreed to the appointment of White, who is from Jersey County, to consider Weber's request to dismiss the charges, the committee noted.

"WEBER'S BEEN investigated by everybody in this state," Libbra said. "Everybody says he's clean as a hound's tooth. Where do we quit?"

Renkin said that whenever outside judges have been involved in the cases involving Weber and Barton, they have ruled against decisions made by county judges. Why this has happened is another question on the group's list.

Other questions on the Organizing Committee's list include:

—Why Mateosian appointed a special prosecutor (Verticchio) to investigate charges based on hearsay. (The investigation at first concerned allegations in a letter from a disgruntled former Weber employee. The special grand jury did not indict Weber on those allegations.)

—Why Verticchio allegedly held the grand jury findings (not to indict Weber on the initial allegations) until after the primary.

—Why Circuit Judges P.J. O'Neill and Philip Rarick allowed the appointment of Keith Jensen without notice to the state's attorney.

JENSEN, a former assistant state's attorney who quit in March, was named to head the investigation into assessment practices. Weber objected to the appointment and a special prosecutor was later appointed to head the probe.

If Jack Frandsen, a county board member from Rural Alhambra, was at the Organizing Committee's press conference last week, Frandsen said no one had consulted with the judiciary committee of the county board or the county board itself on whether White's ruling should be appealed.

Some county board members have been irked by the cost of the probe into allegations against Weber. "We should be asked before another dime is spent," Frandsen said.

He said Verticchio, who he has known for 35 years, met him by chance at the courthouse one day before Verticchio was named special prosecutor to investigate allegations against Weber. Verticchio asked him what was wrong with the state's attorney, Frandsen said.

"I'M JUST real concerned if they had things pre-arranged," Frandsen said.

Gene Kuttin of New Douglas, a member of the Organizing Committee, said he is a former client of Verticchio and talked to him just before last March's primary, in which Weber sought and won re-election.

Kuttin said Verticchio made comments to the effect that Weber was doing things he shouldn't be allowed to do. "I think he had his mind made up (about Weber)," Kuttin said.

Misconduct charges against Weber were issued by a special grand jury under Verticchio in April.

DISAGREES WITH STAND AGAINST SEAT BELT LAW

To the Editor:

I appreciate your feelings and those of the four people you interviewed on the street. However, statistically, you and your family members are much safer with seat belts than without.

Any professional race driver, whether on the track or on a highway, insists on proper seat belts. Safety professionals in major industries who deal with auto and truck fleets have, this year, established mandatory seat belt policies with noncompliance receiving discipline, up to and including discharge.

I respect your editorial license and defend your posture against "Big Brother," but let's be honest with each other — you buckle up your kids, don't you? Making it mandatory to wear the safety equipment provided in your automobile is no greater invasion of your "privacy" than 55-mph speed limit.

Black caucus elects Venice Mayor Echols

Fifteen black elected officials from local cities and Venice Township attended a special meeting last week at the Venice Recreation Center, 323 Broadway, Venice.

The group elected Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols as chairman and Madison Alderman Don Garrett, vice chairman.

The Rev. John Henry Williams, former president of the Venice Park Board, organized the caucus "in an effort to bring black leaders closer together," he said.

Mayor Echols said the group decided to formalize and a name will be selected at a later meeting.

"We believe we are not getting our just dues, politically speaking, and our primary objective of the new organization is to have an impact on that situation," he said.

The group held a general discussion of ongoing issues and other problems which may surface soon, it was learned.

There are 22 black elected officials in the local area, including those serving in city governments and on school boards in Madison and Venice and in Venice Township.

O: My wife and I are in round four of an annual argument. It always takes place after tax time. I'm 44 years old and as good as IRAs appear, it seems a bit late in my life. Am I correct?

A: Not according to the majority of persons who purchase IRAs. According to a recent National Heritage Foundation study, Individual Retirement Accounts are most popular for persons between 35 and 44 years of age. Interestingly, the study also showed that 34,242,000 persons have already opened IRAs, and that an additional 36,540,000 intend to do so in the near future. Research found that 40.4 percent of the 34 million who had opened the accounts fall into your age group. No matter when you open an account, or how much you deposit annually, you always have the immediate tax advantage as well as additional funds earmarked specifically for your retirement. Our advice, see your banker now about an IRA, and avoid that argument next year.

Kerley and her mother, Thelma Mitchell. Both women have been part of the APA's efforts to care for mistreated and unwanted pets for the past 14 years.

MANY OTHERS also have contributed long hours of dedicated volunteer work to bring the dream of a shelter to fulfillment.

Carol Willoughby and JoAnn Hommert are the current APA co-presidents. Thelma Mitchell serves as treasurer and Marge Pemberton is secretary.

The shelter has been built through private donations, fund raisers sponsored by the association, donations from the Chouteau Township Board of Trustees and personal monetary gifts of APA members.

"WE OWE NO outside allegiance to any national organization and what money we raise for the animals will stay here to take care of them," Linda Irwin, an active member said last week.

She noted the APA shelter is not in competition with the Granite City Humane Shelter on Missouri Avenue. "That is a city-owned shelter and they run it according to their rules and regulations," Mrs. Irwin noted.

Mrs. Willoughby said the APA is incorporated, which allows all donations to be tax deductible. The shelter also has been inspected and granted a license by the Illinois State Department of Agriculture.

THE NON-PROFIT APA organization still needs about $2,000 in donations "to put the facility right into operation in fairly good shape," Mrs. Irwin said.

Gifts of pet food, either canned or dry, litter and pet treats also will be very welcome, the women said.

Some pets will be available for adoption after Saturday's ceremony at the shelter, it was learned. All animals are given their initial shots, but families and individuals adopting a pet through the APA are required to provide the animal with follow-up shots, vaccination and see that the pet is spayed or neutered.

A MATCH-UP service also will be offered for those seeking a specific pet and others who may have one for whom they need to find a new home, the APA officers advised.

To avoid overcrowding, a new pet will be accepted at the shelter as one is adopted, it was explained.

"Operation of the shelter by the volunteers will be a full-time job, even if it is on a limited basis to start, which won't leave too much time for fund raising," Mrs. Willoughby said.

And, without a certain income coming in, the financial obligations will quickly mount, it was noted.

"WE'VE THOUGHT about developing an auxiliary or asking an organization to adopt the APA as a special project to help us," Mrs. Willoughby said. "If anyone is interested in such a project they may call the APA at 931-7899."

The new shelter was first built of concrete blocks for insulation and now is encased inside an aluminum pole barn-type structure, almost a burnt orange color.

The kennel area has accommodation for about 50 dogs and cats and also features an isolation section.

DONNA MOORE is serving as dog supervisor and Connie Becerra Kerley is supervisor of cats.

It was stressed the APA has no transportation, nor equipment or funds to catch and pick up animals.

At the present time, such activities must be left to the city's humane service, Mrs. Irwin said.

ALTHOUGH the shelter will be open every day at certain times, adoptions will be offered only on Saturdays, with specific hours yet to be set.

IN THE PAST seven years, Mrs. Willoughby has initiated investigations and followed up nearly 100 cases of cruelty to animals, ranging from pets left without water and no shelter to cases involving mutilation and starvation.

Only one conviction has resulted from all these complaints, she said.

The APA has been in existence since 1970 when a small, dedicated group of local residents banded together to help abused animals.

THE PROGRAM started out with a humane shelter operation at the Granite City Army Installation. However, the group was forced to relinquish the facility in May 1977, due to a change in regulations, and the uphill battle to construct its own shelter began.

As the first tangible step toward a permanent shelter for neglected and abused pets, ground was broken in August 1979 at the Old Alton Road site, where land was donated by a local animal lover, who also is an APA supporter.

A zoning variance was secured, following an on-site hearing, and a building permit was issued in July 1979.

ELECTRICITY, plumbing and cages eventually were installed as money became available, and the interior was being partitioned. All of these projects took time and money, and the only way to obtain funds was through donations.

This situation has not changed and anyone wishing to contribute to the program may do so by sending a check to:

APA, Post Office Box 1311, Granite City, Ill., 62040.

Utility deposits will be eased if bill is passed

The Illinois House has passed and sent to the Senate, legislation to reduce the required utility deposit small businesses can be charged before they receive connection to utility service.

According to State Rep. Sam Wolf (D-Granite City), House Bill 3239 also requires utilities to pay interest to small businesses on the utility deposits, at a rate set by the Illinois Commerce Commission.

"Many small businesses just starting up simply cannot afford to pay the large deposits that utility companies require before they can receive utility services," Wolf said.

"In some cases, initial deposits of up to $1,000 have been requested and requirements such as these were causing additional, unneeded hardships on small businesses and individuals trying to start a business in Illinois."

"This bill cuts deposits down to an affordable level, allowing businesses a greater period of time to make deposits, and requires utilities to pay small businesses and women a competitive interest rate while their deposit monies lay idle," Wolf explained.

The National Federation of Independent Businessmen, the largest association of small businessmen in Illinois, has registered its strong support for this legislation.

"Several steps have already been taken to help homeowners with their utility bills," Wolf said. "With this legislation, the General Assembly has an opportunity to extend similar assistance to our small businesses."

House Bill 3239 passed the House on an affirmative vote of 105 to 0.

A political campaign in a southern Illinois county seat

By ZENED GERGEN
The following essay can only be read as one of the inevitable political critics and commentators that accompany all political campaigns. As Alfred E. Smith said of campaign speeches in 1938: "No matter how thin you slice it, it's still baloney."

As a preschool youngster, my debut into the political arena was unprecedented. Our home was in the town of Pickensville, the county seat of Perry County in the heart of "Little Egypt."

My illustrious Uncle Harry Wilson, who resided with us, was a politician of the first magnitude—the epitome of profession. He was secretary of the county fair association, Sunday school superintendent, high school principal and state senator.

To insure his election as a senator, the governor of the state agreed to make a personal appearance in Pickensville. As Uncle Harry had no sons, I helped him to post his campaign signs and placards throughout his district.

The day before election day the horse-drawn depot stage arrived in front of our house. Alighting from it was the honorable governor Charles S. Dineen and several of his aides. Our home was blessed by so many fine, outstanding, pious, honest, pure blooded, endowed and dedicated politicians.

Being a Republican was the prime qualification for a gold crown in the state beyond Abraham Lincoln and George Medill, the party founder, would have been envious of such a virtuous, apostolic conglomeration of blue blooded scions of integrity and nobility.

The street parade followed. I rode in the back seat of Uncle Harry's model "V" Ford car with the governor. Uncle Harry waved to his constituents. I waved to my small fry pals I played mumblepeg with.

The Silver Coronet Band led us to the railroad siding next to the flour mill. The Illinois Central Railroad supplied a decorated flat car complete with a speaker's platform.

The governor, after being eloquently introduced by Uncle Harry, announced his retirement and endorsed one Frank O. Lowden as his successor. He thanked the crowd for their continued support of the party candidates.

The gentlemen from all over the county were there. So were the good old boys, the town half-wit, the town drunk and his pals, all getting the roofs of their mouths sunburned listening to the oratory.

Buffalo Bill Cody and his Sells-Flower Circus was playing in a neighboring town and lent us a baby elephant named Chin-Chin for the occasion. Chin-Chin was standing on the opposite end of the flatcar from the speaker's platform. Some suggested they give the elephant some water. They brought out a large tub from the mill and filled it.

The band played a tune. Pachyderms don't like eulogizing. The governor extolled the virtues of Uncle Harry and Frank O. Lowden.

Separated sewer line joint threatens Chain of Rocks Road

By SUSANNE INDELICATO of the Press-Record

The Madison County Special Sanitary Sewer Committee learned last week that the joint in a sewer line under Chain of Rocks Road is dangerously close to separating.

Greg Stamps, of Stamps Sewer and Pipe Cleaning Inc., showed the committee a video tape indicating where the joint connecting the pipes was separated by three inches. "It's sinking too," he told the committee. "If that joint pulls apart, you'll lose Chain of Rocks Road."

Stamps said he couldn't determine whether the joint had originally been installed incorrectly or if the separation was being caused by ground movement.

Stamps told the committee that they would either have to replace the line under Chain of Rocks Road or circumvent that line with a new pipe and manhole. But, he said, "I couldn't guarantee that it won't happen again. That ground might be so unstable that it won't hold in there."

The cost of such a project, Stamps said, would be high. "I wouldn't touch it for $25,000."

Sewer superintendent Gene Futch said he has contacted S.M. Wilson Company, and they have agreed to look at the joint and pipe and report back to him within the next two weeks.

In other action last night, the committee directed advising attorney Irvin Slate Jr. to send a letter to the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency indicating that the committee's negotiations with James Green had reached an impasse.

The committee has been trying to negotiate with Green for some time in an effort to tie some of his property into the county's sewer system. Green owns a small shopping center and some apartments in the Gaslight Walk area south of Pontoon Road near Long Lake.

Slate said Green is using an inadequate lagoon for the property, but the county is willing to absorb his system into the county system.

Slate told the committee that some agreements have been reached with Green's lawyer, but no action has been taken by Green himself.

Committee members expressed a desire to have the EPA intervene, but Foreman Paul Bennett told them, "We notified the EPA, but their feeling is that as long as he's working with the county he could add on (to his property)."

Committee member Don Rea responded, "I think somebody should start exerting some pressure to get some protection for those residents over there. Green's not giving it."

The committee discussed a similar situation with Metro East Utility President Jerry T. Wade. His company owns a private sewer system in the Meadow Lane subdivision of old Alton Road in the north part of the service area. Slate says the sewer line empties into an inadequate lagoon, and the county would like to take over that system and feed the sewage into its treatment plant.

Slate says the committee is waiting for Wade to agree to the transfer, but Wade has indicated he wants payment for the transaction. The committee has refused payment.

Slate told the committee last night that EPA officials had indicated that they would begin putting pressure on Wade to complete the transfer of the sewage system.

Pontoon rejects an extension on senior center parking lot

Members of the Pontoon Beach Village Board of Trustees voted last week to reject a two-week extension to B & J Asphalt Co. to complete work on the parking lot at the senior citizens' center.

The group also voted to place the contract with the asphalt company in default and award the contract to the next lowest bidder. However, Village Clerk Mary Warren said yesterday that the contract procedure would not allow the board to award the contract to someone else.

Mrs. Warren said that a representative of Community Development office told her that, although the village cannot reject the contract, the village can fine the asphalt company on a daily basis. She said the company will be fined $45 on weekdays and $30 on weekends.

The paving of the parking lot was to have been completed yesterday. Mrs. Warren said the contractors had asked for an extension of time, since the company from which they were to buy bituminous concrete had been involved with the recently-settled construction materials strike in St. Louis.

Board members agreed, however, that this excuse did not warrant an extension, since the asphalt company had the choice of two rock quarries from which to obtain the materials.

Mrs. Warren said that the company was contracted by the village on May 1, 1984, and that they had 45 days to complete the work.

She said the only work the company has done thus far, is to move a light pole from the center of the parking lot so that it would not be an obstruction.

Man beaten in bar undergoes surgery Friday

The Madison County State's Attorney's office Friday refused to approve felony charges against a North Granite father and son who allegedly beat a man with bar glasses and a pool cue inside the Tip Top Tavern, 18th and State streets, at 8:35 p.m. Thursday.

Assistant state's attorneys said they want witness statements and more evidence before filing the charges, Granite City police were told.

The victim, James Roe of Granite City, underwent surgery Friday for cuts to his forehead and eyebrow. He signed complaints against the alleged assailant, a 40-year-old man and his 22-year-old son.

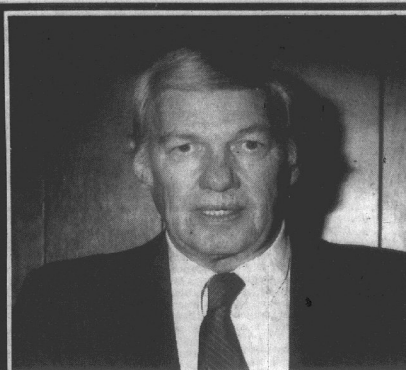

A barmaid said Roe had been sitting at the bar when two men jumped him and hit him several times. The father and son were released pending additional investigation.

How to save money on your grocery bills

Here are some important shopping tips

- 1—Check specials in food store advertisements.
- 2—Get to know the butcher and produce manager.
- 3—Find out when deliveries of perishables are made and shop on those days. Fresher foods last longer and consequently, you'll waste less.
- 4—Learn to estimate accurately the amounts of food needed. Keep a record of the amount of food you throw away in a week. It may tell you to ways you can reduce waste.
- 5—For economy and variety, use eggs, dry beans, and peanut butter in place of meat some of the time. These foods provide protein and most other nutrients that meat supplies.
- 6—Use nonfat dry milk, which is less expensive than fluid milk, at least part of the time in cooking and as a beverage.
- 7—By law, economy sizes of non-food items must save you at least 5% over other sizes of the same brand.
- 8—Try to shop as seldom as possible, preferably once a week.
- 9—Always shop with a well thought out shopping list. Try to base your list of foods on your menu for the week.
- 10—Take advantage of the special coupon offers going on at First Granite City Savings in conjunction with your local Schnucks' grocer.

Park pool opens

(Bulletin: The Granite City Park District opened the Wilson Park swimming pool this morning with swimming for boys. Park officials say those classes will continue through the next two weeks. Girls' classes will begin July 2, with more classes scheduled to begin July 15 and another girls' class scheduled to begin July 30. The mother-infant swim classes began today and will continue through the next two weeks.)

By DONNA KIMBRO of the Press-Record

Cost of repairing the swimming pool and baby's pool at Wilson Park, as of Wednesday June 13, reached the $13,740 mark, with additional bills for the engineer, general contractor, and plumbing company to total $10,675, according to a report submitted by Nancy Sanders, chairman of the park committee overseeing the repairs.

The antiquated facility apparently is springing leaks as soon as it is opened. David Nolan, director of parks and recreation, gave a review of work completed and how soon he expected all leaks to be repaired, in anticipation of opening during the weekend.

During a meeting of the committee on May 22, Miss Sanders outlined the alternatives: cost of complete renovation of pool bathhouse at the existing site; cost of a new pool and renovated bathhouse at the existing site; and cost of new pool at a new site in Wilson Park.

R.W. MacDermott, consulting engineer on the pool project, discussed the bathhouse structure and areas that need renovating. He also said that he would not favor renovating at the present site because of plumbing deterioration, wall cracks, problems in the top and base, along with the shape of cap walls.

Other topics to be prepared for the public hearing are: feasibility of making pool repairs; minus-plus factors of a new pool; how it will be financed; length of construction time; comparison with other area pools regarding repairs; future anticipated repair costs; and comparison of past repairs.

In other business, Barry Loman, chairman of municipal relations for the park board, noted the best music at the gazebo, held on a Sunday afternoon, attracted about 300 people, with the next concert to feature a German band on July 15.

Jack Hood, a member of the rules, personnel, and personnel policy committees, informed the board that they need to hire five summer replacement employees. They will be selected from the applications now on file with the park board office. It was decided.

In discussing tentative appropriations for the coming year, the board discussed the need for a new pool and bathhouse.

tions for the forthcoming budget, Jeff Worthen introduced a recommendation to alter the position of assistant director with an annual salary set at $15,000. The position was designed to cover any situations that would need a decision to be made in the event that the director of parks and recreation may be on vacation or unable to reach, Worthen explained.

The motion was defeated with Jeff Worthen and Jack Hood voting yes, and President George Sykes, Miss Sanders and Barry Loman voting no.

Although this motion was defeated, Sykes, Sanders, Loman and Hood voted yes and Worthen voted no to give Al Curtis a 25-cent-an-hour raise. Since he has worked for the park district for seven years and is now making $4.50 per hour, it was Hood's suggestion that Curtis be granted an increase in salary. Curtis is a part-time employee around and is in charge of the guards, it was reported.

Worthen made a motion to send David Nolan, director of parks and recreation, and one board member to a meeting of the National Parks and Recreation Convention, which was defeated. Voting yes were Miss Sanders and Worthen. Sykes, Loman and Hood voted no.

At this point, Nolan asked the board for permission to take his vacation and, at his own expense, attend the convention.

The only response was from Loman, who said, "You can take your vacation any time you want to."

A property appraisal report from R.M. Wardlaw on a 3.7-acre tract of land owned by the park district in Tri-City Park was accepted by the board members. The report, based on a residential value, noted the property could be sold for a $10,000 to $30,000 range, with a predominant value of $18,000 to $20,000.

Fourth of July concession booths will be manned by the Knights of Columbus, Moose Lodge, Mexican Honorary Commission, Explorer Post 1033, Jaycees, Cub Pack 19, Gloria Spence, Granite City Center, A.P.A., Raiders softball team, Bob's team, Cardinals, Sammie's football team, Lord Nelson's softball team and Little Caesar's soccer team, it was announced during the session.

The board also discussed the carnival ride tickets sold during the holiday event by the Aetecns of Second Baptist Church. The group will be paid $1,000 for the ride. All members voted on the motion, with the exception of Miss Sanders, who abstained since she is involved with group on the spot with the ride.

The remainder of the meeting was spent in discussions led by Worthen, chairman of the finance committee, on possible approaches to be considered for the forthcoming budget. A tentative budget is to be ready for the June 27 meeting, to convene at 7 p.m. at the board office. Appropriations is set for July 11 at 6:30 p.m.

Storm damage reported in area

Although Madison County Sheriff's officers say they received no reports of storm damage yesterday, Jean Deckard of 25 Kelly Drive in Arlington Heights says a storm that passed through pulled some trees in her area.

Deckard says that the storm, which hit the area about 4:30 p.m. Sunday, tore down some large trees in her area. She says her dog circled her house and rolled across the street and into her neighbor's driveway without hitting a single tree or car.

Deckard says the storm also moved a horse trailer and took her children's swimming pool. It has not been found.

At Gateway Nationals Garlits not tops at Gateway Nat'l's

St. LOUIS — Things weren't coming up roses Sunday night for the Dean of the Dragstrip, "Big Daddy" Don Garlits at St. Louis International Raceway's Gateway Nationals.

On a winning role which is virtually unmatched, Garlits' exited competition here Sunday in the first round of eliminations, losing to Dick Lahaie. Gene Snow was the eventual Top Fuel champion, winning $20,000 along with the top prize. Snow's speed in the quarter-mile strip was 240.63 miles per hour.

SAYING his portion of strip was oil laden from an earlier accident, Garlits was less than gracious in his defeat when he returned to his trailer.

MECHANIC-DRIVER. "Big Daddy" Don Garlits, standing to right of car, is what many call the complete driver, being both mechanic and driver of his Top Fuel dragster. The combination has worked quite well for Garlits who is the top driver in his class. Sunday night, however, in the championship eliminations, Garlits' luck soured as he was beaten in the first round of the eliminations. Gene Snow went on to win the event.

Citing the inability of AHRA officials to adequately remove the oil from the track, Garlits said it was the oil on the track which necessitated a reduction in his speed and eventually cost him the race.

GOING into the competition, Garlits was on an impressive run, winning 29 of 30 elimination runs this year in addition to winning the Top Fuel class of the Gateway Nationals six of 13 times.

Don Prudhomme was the winner in the Funny Car competition, posting a winning time of more than 243 miles per hour.

Darrell Alderman picked up the top prize in the pro stocks, beating Jerry Haas with a time of 186.56 miles per hour.

In St. Louis Paddlers debut is Tuesday at Wedgewood

There are many teams in Granite City with winning traditions. On the high school level, soccer and wrestling teams nearly every year win their conference titles and send representatives to state competition.

While Granite City soccer and wrestling teams have been making their marks in the fall and winter respectively, there are a pair of

"A lot of them, I think, really enjoy the discipline. I believe kids really want to be disciplined."

Sonnenberg's "iron hand" rule has worked, as evidenced by the success the team has had since she began coaching Paddlers more than four years ago.

"Rule with an iron hand? Sure, I do. I think you have to," Sonnenberg said. "You've got to make them want to win. Make them respect you, because if you don't have their respect you can't even begin to pro-teams which have been every bit as impressive in the summer. Those teams are Paddlers Swim Club's swimming and diving teams.

Both reigning Southwestern Illinois Swimming Association champions, Paddlers' swimming and diving teams have collectively won seven championships in the last four years and things appear to be as good this year, according to Paddlers' coaches Gayle McCormick and Celeste Sonnenberg.

FOR PADDLERS' divers 1983 marked their third consecutive championship — 81-83. For Paddlers' swimming squad, 1983 was their fourth consecutive championship which began in 1980, the year Sonnenberg began coaching at Paddlers.

The reason for that success, Sonnenberg says, is simple. "We've got a good combination of kids swimming in the winter and practicing all season long. And behind those kids, we've got some parents who are very supportive of what both Gayle and I are trying to do here," Sonnenberg said.

IN ADDITION to numbers and desire, something both Sonnenberg and McCormick believe is a commodity at Paddlers, both coaches believe discipline is a requirement, a necessary ingredient for success.

"Basically, I think the talent for a winning team has always been here," Sonnenberg said modestly, directing the success for Paddlers' swimming teams away from her.

"Some of the kids we get in here are wild, but we work with them. Tell them to get organized and stop messing around."

duce winners."

Paddlers swim team consists of 78 swimmers. Of those 78, 70 percent, or 55, swimmers are returning from last year's championship team.

Headlining this year's team are seven swimmers — seven swimmers Sonnenberg expects to be the team's leaders this summer.

AT THE top of that list, Sonnenberg put 18-year-old Mike Geske. Competing in the free style and back stroke, Geske will be the team captain, the person Sonnenberg thinks the rest of the team will look to for leadership.

Behind Geske, Sonnenberg expects fine performances this summer from John Amisch. Calling Amisch perhaps the team's best all around swimmer who excels in long distance, Sonnenberg looks for additional team leadership from Amisch.

Amisch will represent Paddlers in the butterfly, free style as well as the backstroke this season.

ROUNDING out Paddlers' outstanding swimmers this summer is 14-year-old Patti Martin, butterfly; 14-year-old Kelly Reed, free style; 14-year-old David Baker, free style and back stroke; Steven Geske, under 8 years, free style and butterfly, and 10-year-old Jenny Baker, butterfly and back stroke.

Paddlers' diving team, similarly, is sitting just as pretty when it comes to returning talent.

With a team which consists of 20 persons, McCormick also listed seven returning divers who were integral parts in team's success last year and expects the same this year.

DIVE INSTRUCTION. Gayle McCormick, Paddlers' diving coach this year and the last 12 years, discusses technique with some of her divers Friday during a practice session at Paddlers'.

McCormick and her divers debut their summer competition on Tuesday as they travel to Wedgewood in St. Louis.

AT THE top of that list, McCormick put Heather Crane, a SWISA diving champion last year in 13 and 14 year-old group. Crane, incidentally, is one of two athletes from Southwestern Illinois who was selected to try out for the Prairie State swim team. McCormick is the regional coach for the Games.

In addition to Crane, McCormick cited returning divers Jenny Baker, Tom Scenen, Mike McCormick, Wendy Knollman, Kathy Zengin and Charlie Luehman as mainstays of Paddlers diving team this year.

Like Sonnenberg, Gayle McCormick cited hard work, determination and willingness to become champions as the reason the diving team has continued its successes.

"IT'S THEM, not me. They're the reason Paddlers' has has three consecutive diving championships. They're the champions. They're the ones who have to get up out of bed to come to practice every morning. They're the ones who come to practice when they'd rather be watching television," McCormick said.

"If they're hungry for another championship they'll get it, but I'm not going to make any predictions," she said.

McCormick, who herself was once a member of Paddlers' diving team and has been coaching diving at Paddlers for 12 years, thinks this may be the toughest year yet for Paddlers' to continue its grasp on the SWISA diving championships.

EXPLAINING, McCormick said Paddlers is the only team in association which still uses a 14-foot board. All the other association members now use 16-foot boards. McCormick explained that there is more spring on the longer boards which may throw her divers' off balance while performing their dives.

"Using the different boards will be an adjustment that we'll have to make each time we go to a meet. Summersort will be hosting the SWISA diving championships this year and I know they have a 16-foot board. We're just going to have to go early and hope get some time in on the long board before competition," McCormick said.

The adjustment her divers will have to make, McCormick said, will be to time their dives so they stay on the boards longer so the extra spring will not throw their timing off.

MCCORMICK'S coaching philosophy is a simple one. She relies on natural ability and each divers' desire to succeed.

"Some of our kids are gymnasts, which really helps in diving. But most — the best ones — are gutsy. It takes a gutsy kid to go up there and try some of these dives," McCormick said.

Her recruiting techniques, too, are simple, although somewhat under-

"Generally, early in the season when I'm out here getting sun, I watch everyone I can as they go off the board," McCormick said. "They see me, but they don't think I see them as I watch through my sunglasses."

TUESDAY afternoon in St. Louis, McCormick won't have to watch from afar as her divers and Sonnenberg's swimmers kick off their 1984 season in a dual meet at Wedgewood in St. Louis. Diving competition begins at 5 p.m. followed by swimming competition which begins at 6:30 p.m.

Paddlers' schedule this summer consists of eight meets, three of which will be at Paddlers. Although Paddlers' divers will be competing in the SWISA championships on July 28 at Alton's Summersort, the local swimmers will have the home pool advantage as they host the SWISA swimming championships on Aug. 4.

In Inter-City

Brooklyn proves talent at Chiefs' expense

By PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The Brooklyn Robins proved that they deserved to be ranked as one of the top teams in the Illinois Inter-City League Sunday as they defeated the Granite City Chiefs 2-0 and 14-6.

Playing without four of their starters, the Robins put together excellent pitching with timely hitting to increase their record to 8-0 while dropping the Chiefs' to 0-8.

In the first game, Larry Reed got the win for Brooklyn as he pitched seven innings of shut out ball. Reed's fastball proved to be too much for the Chief hitters as he struck out 12 in his winning effort.

NEED, one of Brooklyn's three starters, was praised by coach Ronald McClellan who felt that Reed played a big part in his team's victory.

"I think he threw three hard and controlled the first game," said McClellan. "I'm very pleased with the way we are playing right now. And I don't think we're really started to get yet."

On the other side of the diamond, Granite City's Ken Crawford took the loss. Crawford allowed just six hits and two runs in his losing effort. However, that proved to be too many as he got little help from the Granite City hitters.

Both of Brooklyn's runs came in the top of the fifth inning. Designated hitter, Harry Dale, led off the inning with a bunt which rolled down the third base line for a base hit. Dale then stole second and went to third on an error by catcher Dominic Griffin.

WILLIAM Coleman coaxed Crawford for a walk before Leroy Woodridge lined a single down the third base line that scored Dale. Coleman went to third on the play. Coleman made the score 2-0 as he came into score on a ground out by Ken Clark.

Granite City threatened in the sixth as they put together two hits. However, Reed's pitching shut them the Chiefs' attack as he struck out Mark Wilson and Dennis Gurkin and induced Dennis Page to tap back to the mound.

In the second game it looked as if Granite City had a chance for their first victory. However, a lack of starting pitchers proved deadly for the Chiefs as Crawford, who had pitched both ends of the double header, tired in the sixth and had to be lifted in the seventh.

BROOKLYN scored 12 of its 14 runs in the sixth and seventh. Robert Bell picked up four RBIs in the seventh inning with two singles as the Robins batted around.

Granite City held Brooklyn close in the early innings. Griffin gave up two runs in the top of the second, the Chiefs came back in their half of the inning to tie the score.

John Linhart got the inning started with a walk. Linhart went to second as Brooklyn's pitcher, Lawrence Day, fired the ball through catcher, William Jackson's glove and then came in to score on a base hit by Jeff Dalton.

The Chiefs took their only lead in the third inning. Lead off hitter Dennis Page was hit by a pitch. Brian Levin walked to move Page down to second. With two outs, Linhart lined a ball over the second baseman's head to drive home Page.

THE CHIEF lead was short-lived, however, as Brooklyn scored in the top of the fourth to even the score at two.

The score remained the same until the top of the sixth. The Robins scored three runs on three hits to retake the lead 5-2. Pitcher, Day deli the big blow for Brooklyn in the sixth with a double to center.

Griffin relieved Crawford for the Chiefs in the seventh. Griffin gave up seven hits and three walks during the inning. Unfortunately for Griffin, the Chiefs' defense also began to collapse as it committed three errors.

Granite City tried to come back in their half of the seventh, but fell short as they could manage only four runs.

GRANITE CITY coach Dennis Gurkin felt that pitching was a definite problem for his team in Sunday's losses.

"Right now we only have one real pitcher. We have some people who play other positions that can come into pitch but no other real starter," said Gurkin.

"We need another pitcher the caliber of Kenny (Crawford). If he had been fresh in the second game I think we could have won it."

Although Gurkin is not happy with his team's 0-8 record he felt his team is now playing much better than they have been in recent games.

"We got six hits in the first game off a very good pitcher," said Gurkin. "I thought we played one of the best teams in the league even up for 13 innings."

"WE JUST didn't get any luck. We had a couple of balls that could have been hits but they just didn't drop in. If those balls got down it's a different game."

their usual starters missing. This problem forced coach Harris to turn to his bench for players they normally do not play.

McDONALDS took the lead 1-0 in the second inning. Jeff Parker walked to get the inning started. He took third on an error before his brother, Lance Parker, delivered a run scoring single.

After O'Fallon had tied the game in their half of the inning, McDonalds regained the lead in the third. Mike Zukas reached base on a fielder's choice. Jeff Parker drove home Zukas with a single.

O'Fallon took the lead 3-2 in the bottom of the third as they scored two runs without the benefit of a hit. Steve Doty played the hero for McDonalds in the fourth inning as they regained the lead 4-3. Doty, who usually does not get to bat because of the designated hitter rule, hit a two-out home run that drove in Curt Youngblood who had walked.

THE SCORE remained the same until the bottom of the seventh inning. With one out, O'Fallon put together back to back hits that tied the score and put a runner at third base.

McDONALDS decided to intentionally load the bases to play for the force out. Unfortunately for them, the Merchants had different ideas.

After Zukas had walked the first batter, the next batter refused to be intentionally passed. When Zukas got the pitch a little too close to the plate, he lined the ball into right field.

Although right fielder Bob Mathias was able to catch the ball, his throw home was too late to keep the winning run from crossing the plate.

McDONALDS decided to intentionally load the bases to play for the force out. Unfortunately for them, the Merchants had different ideas.

After Zukas had walked the first batter, the next batter refused to be intentionally passed. When Zukas got the pitch a little too close to the plate, he lined the ball into right field.

Although right fielder Bob Mathias was able to catch the ball, his throw home was too late to keep the winning run from crossing the plate.

McDONALDS took the lead 4-3 in the bottom of the third as they scored two runs without the benefit of a hit.

Steve Doty played the hero for McDonalds in the fourth inning as they regained the lead 4-3. Doty, who usually does not get to bat because of the designated hitter rule, hit a two-out home run that drove in Curt Youngblood who had walked.

SAFE AT HOME. Brooklyn's William Coleman slides safely into home past Granite City Chief's Dominic Griffin in Sunday's Illinois Inter-City league contest. Coleman's fifth-inning run accounted for the Robins' second score as they defeated the Chiefs' 2-0 in the first game of a double-header. Brooklyn also took the win in the second game by the score of 14-6.

In Jr. Legion Action

GC, Mitchell split with Freeburg

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

FREEBURG — The Granite City Junior American Legion baseball team tried to follow the winning ways of the Mitchell squad Saturday afternoon, but Freeburg devised their own come-from-behind plans to take a 7-5 victory over Granite City.

Hours earlier at the same diamond, Mitchell exploded for five runs in the top of the seventh inning to earn a 7-3 victory over Freeburg in a 1 p.m. contest. Freeburg had carried a 3-2 lead going into the inning.

In other weekend action, Mitchell pitcher Eric Gray collected an easy 11-1 victory Friday over Collinsville. But Mitchell was handed their first loss of the year with a 7-5 defeat Sunday against Alton.

IN SATURDAY'S 4 p.m. game against Granite City, Freeburg appeared headed for their second loss of the day. After jumping to a 3-0 lead in the first inning, Freeburg watched Granite City score one run in the second and four runs in the third to claim a 5-3 lead.

But Freeburg evidently decided one loss was enough. With the bases loaded in the fourth, outfielder Mike Frey ripped a triple to center to drive in three and give Freeburg a 6-5 lead. The team went on to add another run in the fifth for the final 7-5 score.

"More of the guys were fired up after losing the first game," said Freeburg coach Jim McGuire after his team's victory over Granite City. "We needed to win this one."

THE fourth-inning rally by Freeburg started with singles by shortstop Dan Bleckert and outfielder Bob O'Leary. When Granite City pitcher Jay Valbert walked the next man up to load the bases, coach Paul Kacera walked out and a 6-2 mile run.

"You're going to have to gut it out for awhile," Kacera told Valbert. "I have to get my other man ready."

But as reliever Darren Hendrickson warmed up on the sidelines, Valbert looked like he would work his way out of the jam. He forced Freeburg's Todd Fournie to fly out to second baseman Todd Hinterser for the first out. Scott Beggs followed for the second out by popping up foul to third baseman Todd Admittis.

HOWEVER, leadoff batter Frey stepped to the plate and put an end to Valbert's success. He jolted a triple over center fielder Timmy Hogan to help Freeburg regain the lead, 5-5.

"If he had kept the ball down, he would have been OK," said Kacera about Valbert's pitching. "But he gave him (Frey) a high one."

Frey's hit sent Valbert to the dugout, as Hendrickson came into the game. The relief pitcher hit the next batter to put men at first and third, but ended the inning with a force out at second on a ground ball hit by Freeburg pitcher Kent Bricker.

Bricker struck out three and gave up five hits to collect the win. He appeared headed for an easy victory as Freeburg jumped to a 3-0 lead in the first. Granite City followed with an unearned run in the second when designated hitter Mike Georgeff was hit by one of Bricker's pitches with the bases loaded.

GRANITE CITY forced Bricker into trouble again in the third. Jamie Hogan led off with a single and then scored on a triple by Hinterser to close the score to 3-2. Bricker forced out the next two batters before Charlie Collins made it to first on an error by shortstop Bleckert.

Hinterser raced home to put the game in a 3-3 tie.

Catcher David Bamber then cranked a home run over the left field fence to give Granite City a 5-3 lead.

"I was happy the way we came back," said Kacera. "But you've got to give Freeburg credit. They were really hitting the ball."

FREEBURG collected eight hits in the victory, including triples by Frey, Bricker and Chris Lindsay — three batters who were absent during Freeburg's 7-3 loss earlier in the day to Mitchell. Frey and Bricker were playing on a Smithson Jr. American Legion team in a game at Mascoutah, while Lindsay was wrestling in the Prairie State Games

Regionals at Granite City. All three players made it to Freeburg in time for the 4 p.m. contest, much to the delight of their coach.

"They're a big part of our lineup," said McGuire. "They're all pretty tough."

Lindsay, playing first base during the majority of the game, came in to relieve Bricker in the fifth. Lindsay gave up just one hit and struck out two for the save.

THE WIN improved Freeburg to 5-2 and dropped Granite City to 2-3.

In Saturday's earlier game at Freeburg, Mitchell kept their winning streak going by scoring five runs in the bottom of the seventh for a 7-3 victory. A triple by Freddy Becker drove in two runs and singles by Greg Nemeth and Billy Moore drove in one run each during Mitchell's last-inning scoring attack. Pitcher Tim Gray picked up the win.

In Sunday's game at Gordon Moore Park, Mitchell carried a 5-0 tie into the seventh inning. But with one man on, pitcher Tim Stanton gave up a home run to give Alton a 7-5 victory.

THE LOSS was the first of the season for Mitchell and put the team at 7-1 for the year.

Granite City will face Bethalto tonight in a 6 o'clock contest. The game, which was originally scheduled for June 11, will be played at Varsity Field.

Mitchell, meanwhile, travels to Gordon Moore Park for a double-header against the Alton Optimist team. Action gets underway at 6 p.m.

O'Fallon takes two from McDonalds

O'FALLON — The McDonalds Inter-City Baseball League team of Granite City picked up their first two losses of the season Sunday when they traveled to O'Fallon.

In the first game, McDonalds was blown out by the Merchants 14-4. Although the game was close for much of the time, O'Fallon scored seven runs in the sixth inning to get the lopsided victory.

"We thought we were coming back and could tie the game up or maybe go ahead. But they played a trick on us in the sixth and scored seven runs," said McDonalds' coach Ray Harris.

"We had a lot of errors and wild pitches, and then came out in the seventh and could hit nothing but fly balls."

IN THE second game, McDonalds played what coach Harris called "one of their best games of the season" but fell short 5-4. Mike Zukas took the loss.

"We played a good game," said Coach Harris. "I can't complain. We turned a couple of double plays and really looked good."

"It's hard to play when you have so many ball players in the wrong positions and nobody in the dugout to help out."

Harsh, Tahtinen, LeBrun

GC athletes fare well in triathlon

Three Granite City athletes competed in the Lake St. Louis Triathlon on June 3, all finishing well in their respective divisions.

The triathletes competed in three events, the three-quarter mile swim, a 35-mile bicycle ride and a 6.2 mile run.

Among those competing were Jim Harsh, Granite City High School's assistant wrestling coach, who finished 57th overall, and 24th in his age group.

Competing in the 35-39 age group, Harsh finished the three-quarter mile swim in 22 minutes 40 seconds (22:40.0), the 35-mile ride in 12:24:0.0, and the 6.2 mile run in 30:27.0 for a total time of 3:15:11.0.

FINISHING just two places behind Harsh in the same age group was Daniel Tahtinen. Tahtinen was 26th with a time of 3:17:12.

Tahtinen's split time in the three-quarter mile swim, 22:05, was better than Harsh's, however, he was unable to maintain that impressive pace in the 35-mile bicycle ride.

The 35-second edge that Tahtinen held over Harsh following the swim slipped away in the bicycle ride as Tahtinen finished more than 17 minutes behind Harsh at 2:22:34.

In the final leg of the triathlon, the 6.2 mile run, Tahtinen nearly made up for that lost time as he finished that segment in 32:33, nearly 4 minutes ahead of Harsh. But, even with the strong finish, Tahtinen was unable to compensate for his slower finish in the bicycle segment and finished the triathlon in 3:17:12, almost two minutes behind Harsh.

THE THIRD Granite City participant in the triathlon was Rene LeBrun. Competing in the 50-59 division, LeBrun finished with the best of any Granite City athlete in his respective age group. LeBrun finished second in his age group, just 29 seconds behind the first-place finisher in his age group.

FINISHING 3:27:34, LeBrun finished the three-quarter mile swim in 30:05.0, the 35-mile bicycle ride in 2:33:55.0 and breezed through the 6.2 mile run to finish the triathlon in 3:27:34.0.

Lose To Highland

Six inning jinx continues to haunt TC Triplets

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

HIGHLAND — It's getting to the point, where Tri-City Senior Legion Baseball Coach Dave Coakley and members of his team are getting superstitious — if not haunted — by the sixth inning.

Friday night, after Coakley's crew played a fine game through five full innings, the ghosts and superstitions came out to haunt the local hurlers in the sixth inning.

Leading 3-1 to that point, Highland batted through its lineup in the sixth inning, scoring five runs on four hits and two Tri-City errors.

It was fourth time this season that the Triplets have surrendered a lead in the sixth inning and went on to lose. On Thursday, the night prior to the matchup with Highland, the Triplets met with a similar demise, maintaining a lead only to lose in the seventh inning to Waterloo 4-4.

"I COULD see it coming," explained Coach Dave Coakley after Friday's game. "I could see it coming and thought 'Oh no, here we go again.'

"I don't know if they tighten up when the sixth rolls around, or they get relaxed when they get ahead. It seems to me that they get real nervous and tight which causes mistakes that they shouldn't and normally wouldn't have made. They're better ball players than they showed in the sixth inning."

Coakley went on to cite two crucial errors in the sixth inning.

"If I make errors, it has to be the errors. We made two costly ones in the sixth. We've got to cleanly field the ball when men are on base and when we can't make a play on so, then we're not going to hold the ball, to keep them from getting any more bases."

That's what happened in the sixth. Triplet pitcher Sam Tate, who stymied Highland's offense until that point and didn't allow more than one run to bat in the first four innings, walked Highland's Jeff Schulte.

With Schulte on first, cleanup batter Chad Weiss slapped a chopping grounder, a potential double play ball, right off first baseman Keith Coakley.

APPARENTLY suffering from the sixth inning jitters, Keith Coakley misjudged the ball and it escaped in to right field. It was the break Highland needed and it capitalized on it.

Realizing it was its best scoring opportunity of the ball game, Highland rallied for four hits after that — two doubles and two singles — to surpass the Triplets' lead and take a 6-3 advantage.

The second error of the inning enabled Highland's Mark Rosen and Tom Geiger to cross the plate. Geiger picked up Highland's third hit of the inning, a double, to left field. As Geiger strayed away from second base, Triplet catcher Steve Davis fired the ball towards second in an attempt to get Geiger. The ball escaped into the outfield and both Rosen, who was on third, and Geiger scampered in to score.

AS SURPRISING and disappointing as the Triplets' loss was to Tri-City fans, it wasn't a surprise to Highland's Lee Iten Coach Wayne Wirz. Apparently Friday's come-from-behind victory was not the first one for Highland this year.

"We've been winning some ball games late in the game," Wirz said. "We're not a great hitting ball club, but we've been getting some hits in the clutch. We've got good hitters in the middle of the lineup which, as tonight, has helped sustain a rally."

WIRZ CITED Rosen, Scott Riggs and Mike Widman as those clutch hitters. Three of them were nearly all of Highland's offense. The three were responsible for all but one of Highland's hits.

Both teams managed seven hits in the ball game. Tri-City managed one in the first, third and sixth innings and two hits in each the fourth and fifth innings. Jerry Booker was the hot man at the plate for Tri-City, swatting two doubles and a single in four at bats.

Tri-City pitcher Sam Tate proved his worth at the plate as well as on the mound by going two for three — two singles. Other hits went to shortstop Art Williams and Terry Rujawitz.

HIGHLAND managed all but one of its seven hits in the final two innings that it batted. Barring in each the fifth and sixth innings, Highland managed six runs on as many hits in those final two innings.

Tate, who struck out sixth and walked two, was tagged for the loss, while Highland's Jeff Gibbons, who also struck out six and walked four, received the win. Highland is 9-4 on the season.

Tri-City, now 1-7 on the season, will see action again on Tuesday as it hosts East Alton. Action begins 6 p.m.

Series Finale Tonight

Clarinda sneaks by Spankys 3-1, 2-1

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

CLARINDA, IOWA — The Clarinda Athletics took a rain-shortened (five innings) contest from the visiting 7-Up/Spunky's here Sunday night by a 3-1 score and moved up to a 2-1 advantage in the two teams' four-game series which will end tonight.

Both teams are standout clubs in the National Baseball Congress competition. Clarinda, representing the state of Iowa, won the NBC national tournament at Wichita, Kansas, last August, while 7-Up/Spunky's represented Missouri in the same meet and bowed out after three games in the double-elimination tourney.

Saturday night, Manager Bill Sile and his 7-Up/Spanky's chargers won the opening game of a twinbill, 11-6 in what was supposed to be a pair of seven-frame contests.

Saturday's second game, however, it was a bitterly-fought game which wasn't decided until the second extra inning, 4-3, in favor of the Iowans.

Hitting star for Spanky's in Saturday's games was their catcher-third baseman, Keith Hoskison. He blasted a three-run four-bagger in the Illinois team's big four-run third frame, and then came right back in the second game to crack a two-run homer in the sixth frame to tie it up, 3-3, and send the fray into extra innings. It was Hoskison's sixth homer of the season.

Keith Reinhart, a St. Charles, Mo., native, won the first game for 7-Up/Spanky's.

In the second game Saturday, star southpaw Marc Gluckman pitched for 7-Up/Spanky's and worked seven innings and left with the score tied, 3-3. Gluckman, who starred for St. Louis' Washington U. Bears for the past four years injured his arm down in Cape Girardeau two weeks ago and it was touch-and-go whether or not he'd be able to hurl the rest of the season.

Tim Rakers of Albers and a member of the U. of Arkansas, Little Rock team, will pitch Monday for the Illinois club. It was Rakers who relieved Gluckman in Saturday's game and took the loss.

Vince Broderick, towering left-hander from Edwardsville pitched for 7-Up/Spanky's in Sunday's game and took the loss, his second in a 2-2 season. His battery mate, Joe Gasaway, accounted for the losers' only score, a four-bagger in their 3-1 loss.

A fielding error in the leadoff inning Sunday after Broderick walked the first two batters put the lefty in hot water early and the Illinois team was held to just three hits by the Athletics' Howie Townsend. Roger Hill and Bill Stoltz collected the other two Spanky's hits.

The death of the grandfather of Spanky's short stop, Doug Peters, cost the Illinois team not only his defensive play but his big bat. He's expected to rejoin the team Wednesday night for its game against Sagat.

Peters, and his teammate on the Delta State U. team, Roger Hill, have averaged one double play for 16 games. They are now 10-6.

Macios signs UMR letter of intent

ROLLA — Granite City High School soccer standout Paul Macios is one of two talented prep forwards which has been recruited to play on the University of Missouri-Rolla men's soccer team.

Heath Coach Paul McNally announced he has signed GCHS standout Paul Macios and Vianney High School's John Laaker to national letters of intent. McNally feels both should be able to step in and help the Miners quickly.

"Paul is 6-feet 1-inch and 172 pounds and gives us a big player on the line that will not get knocked off the ball with a little physical contact," McNally said. "He played for Gene Baker at Granite City, so we know he is well-coached."

McNALLY continued by reminding those of Granite City's success in recent years in the Illinois State High School Tournament. The Warriors have won seven state championships, six of them under Coach Baker. Macios, incidentally, was a member of the Warriors last state championship team in 1982.

Referring to Laaker, Macios' new teammate, McNally said, "John comes to us from one of the premier programs in the St. Louis area. Vianney has won three of the last four state titles in Missouri and he was a main ingredient on some of those teams."

The Miners are coming off a 1983 record of 10-5.

SIUE, Graham sign 6'3" Newsome

EDWARDSVILLE — Proving that there is still a lot of basketball talent available for the 1984-85 season, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Head Coach Larry Graham has tabbed Dwight Newsome, a 6-foot 3-inch 185 pound guard from Waukegan, as his ninth recruit of the year to sign a national letter of intent with SIUE.

Newsome, a transfer from the College of Lake County, originally began his collegiate career at Casper Junior College of Wyoming. While at Lake County, Newsome averaged 18.7 points, eight rebounds and 3.2 assists per game while connecting on a 49 percent of his shots from the field and 77 percent of his free throw attempts. Not only named as captain of the team, Newsome was also selected the most valuable player as well as to the All-Conference and All-Region team.

A PRODUCT of Waukegan East High School, Newsome capped his prep career by being selected team captain, All-Conference and All-Lake County. He also earned an honorable mention to the Illinois All-State team. An outstanding two-sport athlete, Newsome earned All-State honors in track, finishing fourth during the 1982 state championships with a long jump of 23 feet. During his senior year, Newsome averaged 18.1 points, eight rebounds and two assists per game. He also led the team in field goal percentage, connecting on 53 percent from the field and 78 percent from the free throw line.

NEWSOME also comes from an athletic family, having a brother and a cousin who formerly played at Central College in Iowa, and another cousin, Ozzie Newsome, who currently plays for the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League.

Newsome's signing comes a week after SIUE announced the signing of Darold Randall, a 6-foot 5½-inch honorable mention All-State from Alton High School.

Sports of all Sorts

A press box - the hard way

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

A few special men and women have that rare talent for "getting things done."

One of the best of the breed was the late president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, the mercurial John S. Rendleman. I knew him from his prep days as a gritty and gutsy little boy bulldog of a center on the Anna-Jonesboro High School football team.

He and his teammates were particular pains to me and my readers of the Cairo Evening Citizen. Almost annually the Anna football team beat the Cairo Pilots on the gridiron.

So it was a happy reunion when he came to SIUE in 1968 just before I joined the staff there as the school's sports information director the first day of January, 1969.

After campaigning and getting an enclosed, heated press box at the SIUE soccer field on Bluff Road, I started a drive to get one at the baseball field down at the corner of Poag and Bluff roads. Early on, the Cougar baseball games were played up on the central campus area, roughly where the Senator Sam gym was built.

The first two seasons on Bluff Road, I and the members of the sports writing fraternity "roughed it" in the cold and rainy winds each spring.

We were "out in the weather" until the final day of the NCAA Division II baseball tournament in late May, 1973. The physical plant department at the school erected a lean-to shelter behind home plate consisting of a canvas tarp hung over several slippery elm poles.

Saturday night it rained real hard. When I got to Cougar Field to set up my working space to cover the championship game between Eastern Illinois University, I discovered that there was a lot of rain water caught in the canvass hanging menacingly over my head.

Along about the fifth inning, then Chancellor Rendleman moved into a chair alongside me in the makeshift press box. We were joking and enjoying ourselves because the Cougars were out in front with a safe 8-0 lead.

On my other side was a very promising young sports reporter of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Rick Hummel. He had just recently moved to this area from Quincy where he had done a stand-out job for that town's paper. Those of you who have kept up with the St. Louis Cardinals these past 10 years or so know that Hummel has been covering the Redbirds.

Later in the game, with the Cougars still out in front 8-0, I actually hated it when Hummel cautioned me as the Eastern Illinois Panthers came to bat in the bottom of the ninth.

"Al," he said, "these guys are capable of coming from behind and beating your fellows." At first I thought he was kidding. But I later found out that he wasn't as I painfully watched in horror as Eastern rallied to beat SIUE, 9-4.

But here's the kicker to the story. Just as the Eastern runner crossed home plate to score the winning run, a sudden gust of wind picked up the water-laden canvass and doused us with water.

Caught in the deluge with the reporter and me was Rendleman, who was soaked as much as everyone else.

In anger, I asked him, "Champ, how would you like to have to work under conditions like these?" Without a pause, Rendleman snapped back, "You're right, Al. You shall have your press box and a covered grandstand."

Venice studies uses for Community Development funds

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
of the Press-Record

A citizens' review and public hearing on projected Community Development (CD) funds will take place in Venice, probably this week, Mayor Tyrone Echols said at last week's meeting of the city council.

A specific date was not established for the hearing, but Friday, June 22, is the deadline to submit applications for a portion of what Community Development money will become available during the next funding period—Oct. 1, 1984, through Sept. 30, 1985.

"It's kind of hard to talk about what to do with the money when you don't know how much of it you're going to get," Mayor Echols commented, after announcing that a public hearing must be convened prior to the application deadline.

Reporting on a Community Development workshop for area officials that he recently attended, the mayor stated that a total of $537,540 will be available for District 2 (the Quad-City area).

Total funds for Madison County are down, $374,000 from the allocation received in the last funding period, he noted.

CD funds are administered through the Madison County Community Development agency, with the county divided into various geographic areas or districts, Joe Parente, a county coordinator for CD programs, explained.

District 2 includes the communities of Venice, Granite City, Madison and Pontoon Beach and the townships of Granite City, Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice.

"If things go according to past formulas, we (Venice) may get between $55,000 and $60,000," Mayor Echols speculated. The method of distribution was not made clear at the workshop, he added.

"I called Cheryl Jouett (Madison County Community Development program director) about it and she is going to contact district chairman Paul Schuler (Granite City's mayor) and get back to me," he said.

At the workshop, it appeared the city of Venice will get about five percent of the total amount, the mayor said. "This angered me and we got it up to about 11 percent," Echols told the aldermen.

Parente said Wednesday the reduced amount of Community Development funds, as apportioned to Madison County and elsewhere, is being felt nationwide, although the total funding has not been cut at the federal level.

"The new grants are based on 1980 census data, where the grants of two years ago still were based on the 1970 census figures," he explained.

"There are a lot more communities that now qualify for the CD funds than those that were eligible under the previous census figures," Parente said.

In other business, Mayor Echols advised the Venice aldermen that various "loose ends" in connection with the new senior citizens' center at Klein and Brown streets "are just about wound up," but a date for the official opening has not yet been scheduled.

The contractor was required to tear out and repair the driveway, he said, adding "I think it was just too cold when they poured it."

"Secondly, we still don't have the furniture for the building. It should be at least another week or 10 days until we hear from them (about the furniture)," he stated.

In response to First Ward Alderman John Fleig, who questioned adjustments needed to wiring on an air conditioning unit, Mayor Echols said, "We have $10,000 of their money held in abeyance until all items are done."

Also relating to senior citizens' groups in the community, the council authorized expenses for the Venice Chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) to travel by bus to Grant's Farm, St. Louis, in July, and also to sponsor a Christmas party in December.

The Silver Bells Senior Citizens were given approval to go by bus to a June 27 Cardinal baseball game and to attend the Steppers Ball, also scheduled this month.

Commencement, Nameoki, shops citizens' topics

"Public comment" occupies the top position on the agenda of regular meetings of the Granite City Board of Education, and three citizens utilized the opportunity to speak out at the board's initial June meeting.

The briefest remarks were by Lee Thomas of the Granite City Citizens Forum. He noted that the Agape Fellowship would like to compete to lease the idle Nameoki School.

Thomas said it would be unfortunate for the big grade school building to deteriorate from non-use—and simultaneously cost the school district considerable funds to maintain it—if there is a chance that it can be rented to a group that would keep it in good condition.

Harold Cavins discussed the June 1 graduation ceremonies on the Granite City High School athletic field, noting that many in the audience could not hear the public address system, and asserting that security personnel needlessly harassed parents at the direction of an administrator.

Saying that seating was inadequate for families and friends of the graduates, Cavins said many of the people were kept at a great distance from the seniors.

"No one at anytime was crowding the buffer zone around the students. But an officer in very authoritative tones told everyone on the grass they would have to move back on the cinder track. Everyone grumbled but did move back to the track where they—dressed in their Sunday best—had the choice of standing for two and a half hours or leaving."

Board President David Partney told Cavins he did not receive a note Cavins had tried to forward to him during the ceremonies.

The parent said many "were deprived of a very joyous occasion by an ill-prepared administration." He urged that procedural changes be made so that seniors' parents a year from now do not receive "the same shabby treatment." He said there were no such problems at previous GCHS graduations.

Administrators replied that this year's circumstances were unchanged from past years other than the larger size of the class due to consolidation of two high schools into one. The regular loudspeaker operator was unable to participate, they noted.

Cavins also reported being told that numerous class members failed one or more classes and missed the chance to graduate.

John Petish Sr. again assailed the way vocational shops are being operated, especially the electrical shop that was transferred from one building to another when North and South were combined to form GCHS.

Partney promised that Petish would receive additional answers to his questions about the transition in recent years from large motors to new concepts of electrical and electronics training.

Noting that the schools regularly obtain competitive bids to assure low unit prices when purchasing vocational supplies, materials and equipment, Petish sought to contrast this with abandonment of expensive equipment items which he feels are not yet obsolete.

A frequent speaker at board meetings, Petish said he remains unsatisfied about past dismantling and removal of electrical machinery and wants to pinpoint which administrators or board members permitted it.

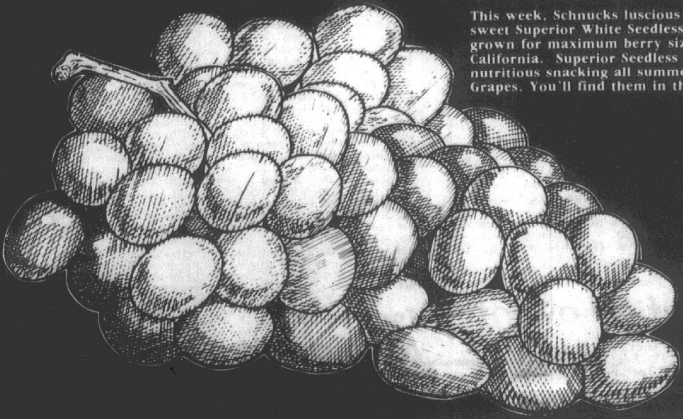

"Who authorized eliminating the electrical shop? What happened to the equipment? I received a letter but cannot accept it. It was without merit. I again ask the same two questions," he concluded.

Bringing you the Best.

Garden Club studies rhododendron

Mrs. Clara Winter selected the rhododendron plant as her subject for a program presented at the monthly meeting of the Garden Study Club, held last week.

Members gathered in the home of Mrs. Clara Korninek for a dessert luncheon followed by the meeting opened by Mrs. Margaret Huesman. She led all in repeating the Conservation Pledge and each one answered roll call with the name of their favorite rose.

A review of the club's annual plant sale was given and termed a successful venture. They agreed to donate money to the Lincoln Memorial Garden major fund, Blue Star Memorial marker project, Project Help and the Chicago River Gardens.

Mrs. Huesman spoke to a group of senior citizens on house plants, roses and vegetable gardens, as the project for the month. She also donated potted plants to the group after her talk, it was announced.

Local family to appear on 'Family Feud'

Name something a family does together. The Amerik Kachigian family, 2890 State St., knows one of the answers is appear on the television game show the "Family Feud." Norma Kachigian says her family has been notified that they will be one of 23 St. Louis area families competing within the next two months on the game show.

Mrs. Kachigian says she first learned about auditions for the show while watching television one day. "I was watching a soap opera, and Richard Dawson came on and said that if you live in the St. Louis area, call this number to try to get on the show. I tried calling for five hours, and I read later that some people tried for 24 hours, and some just gave up."

Their family was chosen from 860 area families that auditioned at the Clayton Holiday Inn for the show. Later, they were among 30 families auditioning for the producer of the show.

"They want people who are outgoing and have some good stories," Mrs. Kachigian says. "They really prompt you to laugh a lot."

For the audition, the Kachigians played the actual game against another family.

Mrs. Kachigian doesn't know exactly when the show's producers will fly them to Los Angeles for the taping of the show. Mrs. Kachigian, her husband Amerik, an attorney, daughters Lydia, 22, and Claudia, 15, and son Armand, 20, will compete on the game show.

Conducting the series of tours again this year is Nona Correllius who invites any interested persons to be a part of this experience.

DAV service unit to visit area

Local veterans and their families are not alone if they're confused about their veterans' benefit entitlements, according to the nonprofit Disabled American Veterans (DAV).

During the past seven years, 25 bills have been enacted, resulting in at least 450 changes in services, benefits and programs available to veterans and their families. In addition, the DAV reports, several provisions reducing veterans' benefits were included in federal budget bills during the last three years.

However, local veterans and their families can get some answers to their questions when a DAV benefits expert visits Granite City on June 26. The DAV's field service unit will be parked at DAV Hall, 1417 Nineteenth St., from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday, June 26.

Local Commander of Chapter 53, Andrew Gitchoff, says this is the fourth year that the service van has been sent this area.

The DAV reports that during the 10 years that the DAV's field service units have traveled across America, more than 355,000 veterans, dependents and survivors have taken advantage of the free services. Those services include benefits counseling and claim filing assistance on behalf of veterans visiting its field service units, the DAV has filed 141,000 claims for Veterans Administration disability compensation and pension alone during the past 10 years.

Last year, the service unit also filed several thousand claims for VA educational programs, Social Security disability payments, VA loan guarantees and insurance programs, military benefits, employment services and other benefits and services.

"The DAV is not a government agency," DAV National Director of Services Charles E. Joekel said. "We're an association of 850,000 disabled vets dedicated to helping our fellow veterans, and we serve no other master."

Veterans need not be members of the DAV to take advantage of the free services. Veterans or family members visiting the service unit should bring the veteran's VA claim number, if available, and Social Security number for filing and reopening claims.

Eagles Auxiliary at state convention

The 36th annual Eagles Auxiliary State Convention was held in Quincy, Ill., earlier this month, attended by Granite City delegates Carol Hill and Gladys Freeman, and members Angie Buehler, Yvonne Gray, Florence Hagnauer, Verlene Zier and JoAnn Aubuchon.

Angie Buehler, local auxiliary member, was elected state auxiliary trustee for the Southern Zone, and also the chairman of the state trustees.

District 8 ritual team, which includes Granite City, won first place in competition with a score of 94 out of a possible 99, and were presented with a check.

Junior Past President, Gladys Freeman's publicity book, which was prepared by publicity chairman Helen Lipchik, won first place statewide in judging, and Mrs. Lipchik was given an engraved trophy. It was voted as the best presented and very neat book, with the most newspaper coverage. The president's book received an honorable mention and blue ribbon.

Honored guests at the convention were Verna Funke and Stella Moorehead, past grand presidents.

Betty Rohn, state junior past president, reported that the statewide new membership goal for the past year was 2000, and that was exceeded by 77 new members.

The local auxiliary received an engraved trophy for exceeding their membership quota by signing 60 new members for the year 83-84.

The delegates made a special mention of the fact that the state auxiliaries had raised approximately $80,500 for charitable purposes the past year. Contributions to various funds were: Heart and Diabetes, $14,500; Jimmie Durante Crippled Children, $11,210; Golden Eagle, $7,160; Cancer and Kidney, $12,885; Education Fund, $14,000; Disaster Fund, $10,053; and City of Hope, $679. A $10,000 grant was given to St. John's Hospital in Springfield for their heart research.

An initiation ceremony was held for the new state officers, and Rosa Hamblin, of Herrin, Ill., was installed as the new state auxiliary president.

He and his wife entertained the family with excerpts from their life a few years ago when they were involved in stunt man and movie extra work.

Both worked in several movies including, Escape From New York, partially shot in this area and it was noted that McGovern played the role of the presidents doctor when they made the remainder of the movie in Hollywood.

A 1980 graduate of Granite City High School South, the bride is employed by the U.S. Coast Guard Group Upper Mississippi River in Keokuk.

The groom was graduated from Keokuk Senior High School in 1976 and currently works as a meat cutter for Hy-Vee Food Store.

Navy Mothers enroll members

Two new members of Quad-City Navy Mothers, Chapter 850, Mrs. Jennie Bilyeu and Mrs. Robert J. Pieper, were introduced at a regular meeting of the organization, Thursday night, held in the VFW Hall.

Commander Clara Layton presided at the session noting that Mrs. Bilyeu will become an associate member since her late husband was a U.S. Navy veteran, and Mrs. Pieper, mother of a U.S. Navy serviceman, will be registered as a member.

They will be installed at a later meeting, it was noted.

Commander Layton administered the oath of office to Mrs. Della Raab as trustee since she was unable to attend the formal installation of officers held earlier.

Plans were announced for a fall rummage sale as a fund raising project and an auction was held at the session.

The mystery package went to Mrs. Bilyeu and the special prize went to Mrs. Raab. The next meeting will be social and will also be held at the VFW.

Former GC resident discusses changes in computers

Everyone, almost, is talking about computers. But how would you feel about a computer talking to you?

Spoken communication between people and machines may be common within a decade, says Dr. Alan Tharp, a former Granite City man who is a computer science faculty member at North Carolina State University.

"I SEE THAT as something we're likely to see in the next 10 years ... and that will dramatically change the number of people who can interact with a computer," Tharp said.

"Where I see a revolution," Tharp said, "is where we have computers that understand English and can respond in English. The voice is the most natural communication medium."

Operating a computer's keyboard can be a consuming and tedious, and requires skills many people don't have, but talking comes as naturally to most of us as breathing, Tharp pointed out.

SPOKEN COMMUNICATION requires not only that computers respond to the spoken word, but that they understand everyday sentences in much the same way people do.

Today, Tharp said, "a lot of time is spent learning programming languages, and a real barrier to millions of people using computers is that they have to learn all these artificial languages." Creating computers that can speak English would eliminate the problem.

Is a problem of keen interest to Tharp, who has been part of NCSU's computer science department for 15 years. His teaching and research concentrates on how to structure information in computers for effective, and efficient access, but he's also active in research on the "man-machine interface: how to make computers more usable" to people, who aren't computer scientists.

ONE OF THE WAYS Tharp keeps in touch with the explosively evolving world of computer technology is by leaving his classroom and laboratory each summer to spend three months as a consultant to Data General Corp. in the Research Triangle. (Tharp is on a nine-month appointment at the university.)

"It allows me to interact with other professionals (in computer science)," he said, "and to see what kinds of problems industry has. It makes my courses much more relevant, and it suggests research work. N.C. State has struggled to meet the challenges of computer technology," Tharp says. "Two years ago, he said, "things were intolerable. Professors were having to change their courses because students didn't have access to computers. Students were having to come in the middle of the night and wait in line for hours to get access to computer terminals."

"THE FACILITIES definitely have improved. We still have a way to go as far as providing ready access for students and faculty, but (NCSU) has made great strides in improving access. It's cost a lot of money, too."

Meanwhile, he says, the computer science department is experiencing a more gradual change in the composition of its student body: "We're going through a change for the better. A few years ago there was a feeling that if you wanted a pot of gold you went to computer science."

"Now, because so many schools are starting computer science programs, the supply (of people entering the field) is exceeding the demand ... and the people who aren't really interested are leaving."

THOSE WHO stick with computer science will find themselves coping with difficulties already familiar to workers in other fields where technological advances have made some job skills obsolete.

In computer programming, for example, Tharp says that some new computer languages can be 20 times more productive than earlier languages. Graduates who studied the earlier languages may need to retrain.

In such a work environment, Tharp says, the key to long-term success is flexibility—willingness and ability to meet the challenges of change.

THARP IS THE son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tharp of 2333 St. Bernard Ave.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

An employee in Illinois who is injured on the job is entitled to certain benefits as provided by the Illinois Workers' Compensation Act. Under this Act, the employer pays the compensation benefits which are normally provided through workmen's compensation insurance carried by the business owner. There seems to be a great deal of confusion among people injured on the job as to the nature of the benefits to which they are entitled.

One important benefit which the injured worker is entitled to receive is necessary medical, hospital or surgical care. These services will normally be paid for by the employer, and the injured employee generally has the right under Illinois law to choose his own doctor and hospital. In fact, the employee is entitled to two choices of doctors, and the employer is responsible in this case to pay for the services of the first and second doctor. In allowing the injured worker to choose his own physician and hospital, Illinois has taken a very enlightened approach. Some states still require the employee to be treated at a company clinic where medical services are often less than adequate.

A second benefit provided by the Illinois Workers' Compensation Act is temporary total disability which is also known as TTD. If an employee must lose time from work in order to recover from his injury, he is entitled to receive this temporary total disability until he gets back to work. This TTD will equal 66-2/3% of the employee's gross average weekly wage. Whereas the injured worker in Illinois receives less money under an award of TTD than he would if he were drawing a salary, it should be noted that his temporary allotment is even less in other states such as Missouri.

Finally, when an employee sustains a permanent injury to a particular part of the body, he is entitled to compensation for this loss of use. Often this award of money is paid in a lump sum. The amount of the permanent award in a given case depends upon the part of the body which is injured, the percentage loss of use of this part of the body, and the average weekly wage of the worker at the time of the injury.

If the employer contests the employee's right to any of these benefits, an arbitrator assigned by the Illinois Industrial Commission will decide the case. Both the employer and employee may retain an attorney in a workmen's compensation case, and the attorney's fee is normally limited to 20% of the amount of compensation recovered on behalf of the injured worker. It should be noted in conclusion that a claim must be filed by the injured employee within three years after the injury or within two years following the last payment of compensation, whichever is later.

Seniors advisory network forming

Illinois House Speaker Michael J. Madigan has announced the formation of a statewide Senior Citizens Advisory Network to develop a new legislative program for the state.

Madigan's announcement came during a senior citizens conference last week, which attracted nearly 800 people to a day-long statehouse meeting that featured a series of speakers and regional caucuses.

"Through the conference and an upcoming series of regional and community meetings, we will be able to work through the summer and fall to develop a legislative agenda for the 1985 session," Madigan said.

"By activating the Senior Citizens Advocacy Network (SCAN) we in the legislature will be better able to communicate with you about important issues and you will be much better able to communicate with us," the Speaker added.

During the conference, Madigan also called attention to legislation important to senior citizens pending before the current session of the General Assembly. He urged them to contact local lawmakers to ensure passage of bills providing pharmaceutical assistance, elimination of state income taxes on federal social security benefits, reducing the cost of state senior license plates and overhauling the nursing home regulatory system to allow the state to investigate and prosecute reported patient abuse.

"You are a group of people who deserve to receive the best services that government can provide and we are here to see to it that happens," Madigan said.

Joining the speaker at the conference were: U.S. Rep. Paul Simon (D-Makanda); Robert J. Ahrens, director of the Chicago Department on Aging and Disability; State Sen. Vince DeMuzio (D-Carlinville); William Hutton, executive director of the National Council of Senior Citizens; Esther Peterson, former White House Consumer Affairs advisor; Myrtle Bachelder, a member of the national legislative council of the American Association of Retired Persons; and Sanford Luger, chief New Jersey bureau of pharmacy.

Jaycees granted $20,000 in weatherization program

The Energy Assistance Foundation has announced a grant of up to $20,000 to the Edwardsville Jaycees to fund a weatherization program.

The Jaycees will be assisting needy people in the Edwardsville area with making their homes more energy efficient.

"We are very pleased to add the Edwardsville Jaycees to our growing list of organizations, who like the Jaycees, are providing physical assistance, along with helping their neighbors who are less fortunate," said Harold E. Powell, executive director of the foundation. This brings to date a total of $219,844 distributed to various organizations by the foundation to weatherize homes for eligible persons.

The Decatur-based foundation began in December 1982 and makes grants to community organizations to help needy persons conserve energy to reduce their utility bills. It was begun with an initial grant of $250,000 from Illinois Power Company. The utility will match other contributions up to an additional $250,000.

TWO YOUNGSTERS RECEIVE MINOR INJURIES IN CRASH

Two young children suffered minor injuries when the car in which they were riding was struck at 4:35 p.m. Friday. Neither was given medical attention at the scene, reports indicated.

The children, Jennifer and Robert W. Schrader, 5 and 3, respectively, both of 2020 Ohio Ave., were passengers in a car traveling west on Niedringhaus Avenue, operated by Darrell Schrader, 28, of the same address, when their auto became involved in a collision with a vehicle headed north on Delmar Avenue, driven by Carol T. Treadway, 36, of 1314 Oriole St., Venice.

In trying to avoid the Treadway auto, Schrader's car struck a curb with the left rear tire, reports said. Schrader was ticketed for driving while his license was expired and agreed to appear July 20 in court.

Free transportation offered to bring runaways home

The International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP) and The Trailways Corporation have established a program entitled "Operation: Home Free" to aid in reuniting runaway children with their families. Any child identified by the IACP as a runaway will be given free transport aboard Trailways to his or her home community, it was announced at a press conference in New York City.

According to IACP statistics, more than one million children are reported missing each year. Of this number, many are runaways who find themselves stranded in unfamiliar locales with no way to return home to their families. Trailways, the Dallas-based, intercity bus company, was approached by the IACP earlier this year to see if they would be interested in providing free transport for these runaway youths. Following several meetings, the mechanics of Operation: Home Free were worked out.

"Under the terms of the program, any child who is a reported runaway and is confirmed as such by any one of our 15,000 member departments, will be escorted to the local Trailways terminal or agency and placed on a Trailways bus to their home community," explained Mr. Norman Darwick, executive director of the IACP. "Our organization will take care of the coordination of the trip and letting family members know that their children have been found and will be coming home. We will also accompany the child to the Trailways terminal and present a form which will entitle the child to a free Trailways ticket," he said.

Once the form is presented and the ticket has been issued, the child will be placed aboard Trailways to his or her destination. The IACP will assign their member department in the destination city, who will, in turn, inform the child's family of the arrival time of the Trailways schedule. "The Operation: Home Free program will aid tremendously in our work on behalf of runaways and their families," stated Howard Runyon, president of the IACP. "Trailways is to be commended for its civic mindedness in taking part in this important program. On behalf of our member departments, I would like to personally express my appreciation for their cooperation and their concern for these runaway children and their families," Runyon said.

As part of the program, Trailways will be producing posters and other communication tools in order to spread the word about Operation: Home Free. A brief explanation of the service will be posted in areas that traditionally attract runaway children, such as video centers and playgrounds in urban centers. In addition, a series of public service announcements will be produced by The Trailways Corporation for distribution to television and radio stations across the country by the IACP.

"Our bus company reaches into thousands of cities, towns and crossroad communities nationwide," noted James L. Kerrigan, chairman and chief executive officer of The Trailways Corporation. "Operation: Home Free is just one way in which we can exercise our duty as good corporate citizens and return something to those communities in which we operate. I sincerely hope that we can be of service to a great number of families in the months and years ahead. But, even if we reunite just one family, we will consider the program a success," he said.

According to representatives from both the IACP and Trailways, the program is not restricted in any way. Any individual, agency or association with information on runaways in need of transportation service may contact their local IACP member department and take advantage of the Operation: Home Free program.

"Our concern has been to identify runaways and make sure they have means to get home," said Darwick. "We now have a way to get them home. All we need now is a concerted effort on the part of municipalities and social agencies to bring those children wishing to return home, to our attention."

PROPERTY DAMAGED

Roy Griggs of 1014 College St., Venice, told police Friday morning that someone caused $300 damage to a deer statue, a bird bath, a bird statue and a no trespassing sign that were placed in the lot next to his home. Police are investigating the incident.

Mobile home requests dominate board agenda

Seven cases involving mobile homes and a request for rezoning for Consolidated Gasoline Co. make up the agenda for Wednesday's Madison County Board meeting at 9:30 a.m. at the county courthouse in Edwardsville.

Consolidated Gasoline Co. and owner Roy Twillman are requesting that a tract of land along Route 162 and Mollenbrock Road in Nameoki Township be rezoned from an agricultural district to a B-4 wholesale business district. The Board of Appeals has recommended that the request be granted.

In other requests before the board, property owner Danny Bowman and mobile home occupants Dennis and June Cooper are requesting a special use permit and variance allowing them to keep a mobile home in a flood hazard area in an agricultural district in Chouteau Township. The property is located on Chouteau Island along Old Water Works Road.

The Board of Appeals has recommended that the request be granted providing that the permit expire after five years, that the Coopers be the sole occupants and that the mobile home be moved when a flood is impending.

Roger A. Kieffer is requesting a special use permit and variance to place a double wide mobile home on a flood area in an agricultural district in Chouteau Township. His property is also located on Chouteau Island. The board has recommended that a special use permit be issued for five years, providing that Kieffer is the sole occupant of the mobile home, and that he move the mobile home in the case of an impending flood.

The board also has recommended that a special use permit be granted for five years to Stephen McMahon. He wants to continue the placement of a mobile home in a one-family residence district in Chouteau Township. McMahon's property is located at 4919 Hills St. in Hills Terrace subdivision.

Earline M. Hill wants a five-year special use permit and variance to place a double wide mobile home in a one-family residence district in Nameoki Township, specifically at 4520 Lake Dr. The board has recommended the request be granted by the county board.

Also recommended is a request for a five-year special use permit for Lester Denninger. He wants to place a mobile home in a single-family residence district at 3126 Amherst in State Park Place in Nameoki Township.

James W. Spencer wants to place a mobile home in a single-family residence district at 213 Booker St. in Viaduct Addition in Nameoki Township. The Board of Appeals has recommended that a five-year special use permit be granted.

The board also has recommended that a request to place a double-wide mobile home in a one-family residence district at 4056 Central Lane in Nameoki Township be denied. Property owner Supashine Scruggs and purchaser Lynn A. Lewis made the request.

A request by Fred J. and Norman J. Weiler for a special use permit for a heating and cooling business in a one-family residence district at 4284 Highway 162 in Nameoki Township will not be considered because of technicalities.

Suspect held in shotgun incident

Keith Hilmer, 20, of the 1600 block of Third Street, Madison, suffered wounds to his abdomen and the right collarbone when allegedly shot with pellets from a .410-gauge bolt-action shotgun at 3 a.m. Saturday.

Madison police were holding a suspect Sunday, pending application to the state's attorney's office for a felony charge, it was learned.

Hilmer was taken by the Madison Fire Department ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He is believed to have been released after receiving medical treatment.

Responding to a call from the 2000 block of Beckwith Avenue, a Madison police sergeant alleged finding one man striking a shotgun against the curbing and breaking the weapon into two pieces.

At that point, Hilmer walked up to the officer and said he had been shot in the stomach. He was suffering wounds to the center and lower abdomen and near his collarbone, reports said.

A woman at the scene alleged that Hilmer had been shot by her former boyfriend, who also had tried to shoot her, she said. The suspect was taken into custody at a house nearby and remained in the Madison jail Sunday.
